Grandmas of Old Should Be Preserved

Species Nearly Extinct, Now a Museum Piece

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Before the species dies out altogether, someone ought t go out and trap a real old-fashioned grandma.

And they ought to trap a real old-fashioned grandpa, too, and put them on exhibition in the American Museum of Natural History—somewhere between the dinosaur and the brontosaurus.

• • •

BUT I SUPPOSE it is too late. Are there any real old-fashioned grandparents left? If there are I don't see them anymore. No place, that is, except in the magazine ads.

• • •

You know the type of grandma I mean. She's the dear old white-haired soul with the kindly look, sitting in a quaint rocking chair and putting the finishing touches on a quilt. An remember the old-fashioned grandpa? He's the gentle character with the time-frayed moustache. He is seated by the fireplace. His cane is by his side, and a golden-haired tot is sleeping on his lap as the fine old fellow gazes with misty eyes into the dying fire.

• • •

THEY HAVE become streamlined—just like trains, airplanes and motor cars. The jet age grandma doesn't want to look like Whistler's mother. Her model is Marlene Dietrich, who is a grandma, too, but gets a little tired of having that fact mentioned so much.

• • •

Yep, grandma has done gone in for glamor and sex appeal. She no longer has silver threads among the gold. She's a platinum blonde. And by golly, and by peroxide, she's going to stay a blonde!

• • •

GRANDMA IS DONE with diapers. She'd rather play canasta or talk about the foreign policy.

• • •

WHEN THE WOLF knocks on the door where Red Riding Hood's grandma lives, he isn't coming for a free meal. He's got a date.

Well, it's kind of sad to have the old-fashioned grandma and the old-fashioned grandpa vanish like the dodo. But the new streamlined models seem to have a lot more fun. They may not act their age, but it's rather nice to see the old folks growing young so disgracefully.

Senate Will Begin Mac Hearings May 3

Committee to Hear General's Policy Views

Inquiry Will Be Made Public 'If At All Posible'

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The senate inquiry into the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and related foreign policies will begin May 3.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the senate armed services committee announced the date today and said it is his plan to hear MacArthur at a closed-door session. But there will be an open or public hearing "if the general expresses a desire," Russell added.

Senate leaders — both Democratic and Republican—urged public hearings "as far as possible."

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, told reporters he favors making public all except vital security information. Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate Republican policy committee, agreed.

Denies Whitney Statement

In other developments:

1. The White House said a statement of President Truman's reasons for firing MacArthur was sent to MacArthur's command in Tokyo. Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short made that comment when asked about a statement by a MacArthur aide that the general does not know why President Truman stripped him of his commands.

Major General Courtney Whitney, the general's personal adviser, told reporters in New York yesterday:

"To this day Gen. MacArthur never has been informed as to the reasons for his summary dismissal and he hasn't the faintest idea why the action was taken."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a reporter he expects Republican members of the senate armed services committee to take the lead in organizing a case for broader prosecution of the Korean war.

Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Knowland (R-Calif) are likely leaders in the move.

Independent of Mac

"This would be independent of what Gen. MacArthur has to say

Presses Begin Rolling Out Evening Telegraph's Giant 100th Anniversary Edition

270-Page Issue Will Be Ready for Delivery Next Tuesday, May 1

The Dixon Evening Telegraph's presses today began rolling out one of the greatest single newspaper editions ever produced in the middlewest.

The first 16-page section of the Evening Telegraph's Centennial edition has gone to press.

Press crews were scheduled night and day for the remainder of the week in order that the 270-page edition can be sped to homes throughout the Rock River valley and to all states of the union on Tuesday, May 1.

Today's press run marked the beginning of the end of a most ambitious small newspaper operation. It is difficult to believe that any newspaper the size of the Dixon Evening Telegraph ever has attempted such an edition.

Final Sections

As the presses rolled out the first section, editorial and mechanical staff members were closing in on the final sections which will go to press just before the final day. Then the editorial staff will go to work on the current day's edition, the Tuesday issue, the size of which is yet to be determined.

Circulation department crews are being mustered to handle the monstrous issue. The Dixon armory has been leased and as the sections are taken from the presses, they will be stored in sequence on the armory floor. Next weekend, special circulation staffs will "stuff," or assemble, the 16 special sections. If the completed edition was stacked in one pile, that pile would reach higher than the Empire State building.

Other Sections

In addition to the sections set aside for a chronological history of the Dixon area, there are sections devoted to historical backgrounds on each of the towns in The Telegraph circulation area.

Another section contains a complete story of the present Evening Telegraph and its two Dixon affiliates, The Dixon Publishing Co., and The B. F. Shaw commercial printing plant.

British Labor Party Makes Power 'Deal'

Attlee's Forces Act to Prevent Government Ouster

LONDON — (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's forces and rebellious Laborite left wingers made a deal today aimed at keeping the Labor government in power as long as possible and preventing a general election at this time.

The deal, with both sides making concessions, came after a third government leader, John Freeman, parliamentary secretary to the minister of supply, resigned in protest over the government's arms budget.

He quit for broadly the same reasons as Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan and Board of Trade President Harold Wilson: Britain's financing of her rearmament at the expense of national free medicine scheme.

New Appointments

The Labor government announced the appointment of Alfred Robens to Bevan's Labor ministry post, and of Sir Hareley Shawcross as president of the board of trade. Robens, 40, has been parliamentary secretary to the minister of fuel, and Shawcross, 49, has been attorney general.

The Labor members of parliament held a two-hour secret emergency meeting. It resulted in a deal in which the rebels, headed by Bevan and Wilson, pledged themselves to put party unity in the House of Commons above the policy split.

In return, Attlee's forces agreed to permit Bevan to abstain if there is a vote in the House of Commons tonight on the government bill to slap a 50 per cent charge on false teeth and spectacles. Bevan's supporters in the Labor party must toe the line and support the bill.

Use of Chiang Forces Urged By Ridgeway

Mac's Aide Reveals That Present Asia Chief Okayed Plan

NEW YORK, (AP)—An adviser to Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today that Lieut. Gen. Matthew Ridgway had proposed to the Pentagon that Chinese troops on Formosa be sent into battle.

Ridgway succeeded MacArthur ins his Far East commands when the latter was deposed by President Truman for expressing views contrary to administration policy concerning Korea.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, personal adviser to the ousted general, told reporters Ridgway made the proposal "after analyzing the situation"—apparently soon after his arrival in Korea and while MacArthur still was in supreme command.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East, including "Lieut. Gen. (George E.) Stratemeyer, air commander, and (Vice) Admiral (Charles Turner) Joy, in charge of naval operations," also favored the use of Chiang Kai Shek's troops.

Whitney said Ridgway "sent a very strong message to the Pentagon through Gen. MacArthur, advocating use of those troops to strengthen our military position."

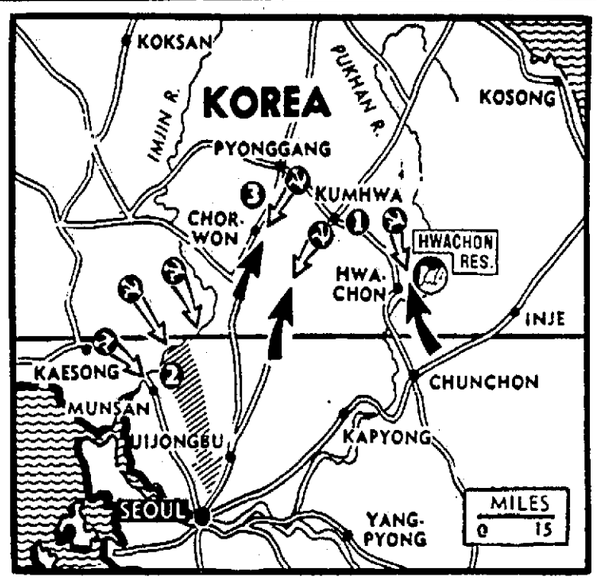

Retail Stores Given 30-Day OPS Extension

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government today granted 276,000 retail stores another 30-day extension — until May 30 — to put their new, margin-type price control ceilings in effect.

In ordering the delay, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle pointed out that until a retailer files his pricing charts, his ceiling prices still will be regulated under the general price freeze. This set price levels at the highest figure for which goods were sold during the base period last Dec. 19-Jan. 25.

After the new deadline of May 30, no retailer may lawfully sell any item covered by the margin-type price control order unless he has filed his pricing chart with an Office of Price Stabilization district office.

Ceiling price regulation 7, covering retailers, originally was issued Feb. 27. It included all of the items commonly sold in apparel and shoe stores, along with furniture, floor coverings and 75 per cent of the volume handled by department stores. The deadline for filing was set at March 29 but this later was extended to April 30.

RED TROOPS STRIKE BACK—An estimated 700,000-man Communist army slammed into the UN line along a 95-mile front in the long-heralded spring offensive. Chinese aimed their main blow at center of the Allied line southwest of Kumhwa (1), anchor base of the Chinese build-up area. Three enemy columns struck across Imjin river on 15-mile front northeast of leading straight to Seoul. Below Chorwon (3) GIs rolled with Chinese punch. On east-central front up to 2,000 Communists broke into Allied line west of Hwachon reservoir but UN troops plugged the hole and were reportedly holding their own.

Gen. Ridgeway Says Battle May Decide War

500,000 Enemy Troops Strike At Eighth Army

TOKYO — (AP) — Nearly one-half million battle-tested Reds smashed a hole in the center of the United Nations line today in their third invasion of Sout Korea.

Communist troops streamed through the gap and bent back the right flank of the Allied line.

They were striking savagely with the aim of breaking up the international Eighth army into piecemeal units.

South Korean units manning the center of the 100-mile line crumbled before the fury of the Red spring offensive. Their retreat exposed other Allied divisions.

Frontline officers considered the situation serious. But headquarters commanders were confident the rejuvenated Allied forces could stem the offensive.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the grenade-packing paratrooper who shored up the morale of allied forces before he succeeded General MacArthur as supreme commander, visited the front.

Greatest Offensive

Ridgway said the great battle "well may prove decisive." He called it the greatest Red offensive yet launched, but warned that the allies probably have not yet met its full strength.

On the eastern flank Red Koreans overran Inje. They struck with surprising strength. Defense of the town, four miles north of the border, collapsed.

South Koreans gave way before a similar Chinese assault in the center. The Korean retreat exposed the flanks of other UN units.

Reds rammed through, deepening their wedge south of the 38th parallel: Censorship withheld the precise distance. Earlier in the day the Chinese had pushed four miles into South Korea.

Casualties High

An Eighth Army spokesman said Red casualties were 10 times those of UN forces. On the eastern front an officer said Red losses there were 20 times those of the allies.

Arms of the Red pincer movement were formed by Chinese pushing down the mountainous center of the peninsula, and reinforced Reds boring across the Injin river in the west.

Elements of two attacking Chinese divisions forced UN troops to withdraw near Koraangpo at the western end of the front. Korangpo is south of the 38th parallel and 30 miles north of Seoul, South Korean capital.

Strike Back

UN forces hit back. AP Correspondent John Randolph reported they "were still fighting savagely at dusk" Tuesday.

The other arm of the pincer threatened the Chunchon-Seoul highway. This road leads to the capital from the northeast.

Only around Hwachon reservoir, east of the breakthrough, did the UN line hold firmly. Outflanked allied beat off repeated attacks at Hwachon at the western end of the reservoir.

"This is a real war now," a divisional officer said. "We are dealing with an enemy that has large numbers, lots of artillery for the first time and the obvious intention of wiping us out.

"We know that. And we are waiting for him. He has taken some terrible losses already. And

Iowa, Illinois Towns Battle Flood Waters as Crest Nears

By the Associated Press

The Mississippi river's spring floods dealt further destructive blows in the upper valley region today.

Damage mounted into the millions of dollars. The Red Cross said 7,400 persons were homeless in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri. Another 24,000, the Red Cross said, were threatened with evacuation by the flood waters.

Men worked throughout the night in some of the Iowa and Illinois river towns endangered by the swirling waters from the big stream. Some rain and warmer weather was forecast for the area today.

Iowa communities—Davenport, Dubuque, Clinton, Muscatin, Port Louisa and little Sabula—fought the angry waters. The crest which hit Dubuque Sunday, is moving downstream with Clinton, Davenport and Muscatine the next major cities to face the onslaught.

Town Surrounded

The 800 residents of Sabula, 16 miles north of Clinton, are waging a grim fight against the flood. The town is surrounded by water except for two highways which lead in on raised grades. Sixty per cent of the town is reported below the level of the river and in many places the town is eight to 10 feet below.

At Muscatine, a town of 20,000 population, the river was at 20.3 feet and was expected to crest at 21.5 feet Thursday.

Water is near the top of the levees at Drury, Ill., across the river from Muscatine. Dikes were being extended to New Boston, Ill., further downstream.

Crest Due Tomorrow

The crest at Davenport is due tomorrow but already 240 city blocks are under water. The stage was 17.7 feet and rising slowly.

The Milwaukee and Burlington railroads halted operations on the Iowa side of the river between Davenport and Clinton.

Army engineers in Missouri told Gov. Forrest Smith the river might force 400 persons from their homes at Canton by Thursday.

As the floods moved downstream, workmen in river towns in Wisconsin and Minnesota started the cleanup job. But at Prairie du Chien, Wis., and La Corsse, Wis., hundreds were not expected to be able to return to their homes for several days.

Cpl. Toms was assigned to the 524 military police service company.

He enlisted in the army Jan. 10, 1949, according to Selective Service records. He was born May 16, 1929 in Polo.

His father is now in Hines hospital, Chicago, and his mother, Mrs. Ada Toms lives in LaSalle.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Anna Lohman, Polo, Mrs. Eileen Tappanier, Dixon, and Mrs. Marion Madden, Chicago; six brothers, Maynard, Polo, Vernon, Dixon, Darwin, Nachusa, and Howard, Marvin and James in service.

Survey Shows 154 Miles of Lee County Roads Need Attention

More than 154 miles of Lee county roads needs to be reconstructed or resurfaced by 1960, according to a survey by the Illinois public works department.

In figures released Tuesday, the department said that $8,364,710 needs to be spent for rehabilitating the county highway system.

More than 68 miles of primary roads need to be resurfaced at a cost of $2,600,000. Some of these roads need widening.

Twenty-seven miles of primary roads and 54 miles of secondary roads should be reconstructed. The cost estimated for this work on the primary roads is $2,959,000 and the secondary roads is $996,190. Total estimated reconstruction costs are $3,995,190.

Parking Lanes

Construction of additional parking and traffic lanes of primary roads is estimated at a cost of $624,000 for 4.4 miles. The existing pavement next to these lanes need not be resurfaced.

Twenty-seven bridges should be widened at an estimated cost of $773,520. Sixteen of the bridges are on primary roads and 11 are on secondary roads. The estimated costs for the primary roads bridges is $499,000 and for the secondary road bridges $274,520.

Two railroad bridges need to be constructed on primary roads at an estimated cost of $412,000.

10,417 Miles

Primary roads are those roads which carry United States or Illinois road markers built as part of the state bond issue, built or improved as regular federal-aid highways, constructed under the system of state highways act or constructed as specific house or senate road bills.

At present this system includes 10,417 miles of rural highways and 1,728 miles of streets in incorporated areas.

(For further details on the public works department state road survey turn to Page 8.)

Secondary roads are all other state supported roads.

The survey found more than 60 per cent of the rural primary system and 57 per cent of the urban primary system needs improvement by 1960. The survey also found that more than 42 per cent of the primary system is now deficient.

List Roads

According to the survey, the secondary road improvements needed in Lee county by 1955 include a portion of the Rock Island road west of Dixon, about four miles of the road running east of Franklin Grove, two roads in the West Brooklyn area, the road running south from the Rock Island road to Walnut, three roads in the Pawpaw area and a road south of Amboy running off Rt. 52.

Other secondary road improvements needed near Dixon include three roads in the Oregon-Mt. Morris area and one road in the vicinity of Rochelle.

Alt. Rt. 30 In Bad Shape

Alternate Rt. 30 should be reconstructed through Lee county, according to the primary road survey. Primary roads which should be resurfaced are Rt. 2, Rt. 52, Rt. 26 and Rt. 51.

Rt. 52 and Rt. 2 need to be resurfaced through Ogle county and Rt. 30 should be reconstructed from the Lee county line to Rochelle. Rt. 51 should be resurfaced north of Rochelle to the Winnebago county line. A short portion of Rt. 64 needs resurfacing between Oregon and Rt. 52.

Rt. 92 should be reconstructed and resurfaced in different portions of Bureau county.

Estimates for work on these primary roads have been made to 1960.

Checking Car Lights at Jaycee Test Lane

ONE OF THE 229 CARS which were tested at the Jaycee safety lane Saturday is shown getting its headlights checked. The cars were tested on the Galena avenue bridge. On the left, LaVerne Swan is giving the driver a ticket of approval as Bill Rhodes says the lights are all right. More than 49 per cent of the cars tested were rejected as not being safe. 'Mad Poet' Loses 27th Appeal; Judge Rules It's About Enough

Circuit Judge George C. Dixon today denied the 27th appeal made by Charles Skinner, the "Mad Poet of Amboy," in the legal marathon to escape a sentence to life imprisonment.

The judge took a strong stand on the case by stating that it "appears to the court that he has fully exhausted his various remedies in the various courts."

The judge added that his decision was without prejudice to Skinner who has the right to appeal to any other court of his selection. The various appeals and petitions filed by the convicted murderer include 11 in Lee county circuit court, 10 in the Illinois supreme court, one in the circuit court of Randolph county, two in the U. S. district court of the eastern division of Illinois, two to the U. S. Supreme court and one to the governor.

In his latest petition Skinner had asked that his case be reviewed by the Lee county circuit court. The judge overruled this request and vetoed Skinner's petition that he be returned from the penitentiary at Menard for the review. Judge Dixon ruled the court was without authority to grant a further review.

He was sentenced to life April 22, 1935, for the slaying of Olive Derwent in Amboy.

Keep Flies Off Steers, It's A Dollars-and-Cents Program

It costs only five cents per head to produce 50 pounds of beef. Yes, 50 pounds of extra beef per animal if you eliminate the costly fly problem by spraying livestock with the new effective insecticides which are available today.

R. L. Rasmussen, agricultural agent for the Illinois Central railroad, says that because of fly damage to hides and meat of marketable livestock, farm income will be millions of dollars less this year in Illinois Central territory alone. Livestock farmers can share in the defense program by starting now to exterminate these pests, and thereby increase their yield of meat and dairy products. The progressive farmer cannot afford to let his livestock play host to insects and parasites at the expense of his home and family, when for only a few cents a head, livestock can be insect and fly-free all year.

Torment Cattle

Horn flies appear early every spring and torment cattle until frost. Now is the time to check their increase. All animals in the herd should be sprayed at the same time and more than once as the average duration of effectiveness increases with each treatment. Control is obtained by spraying cattle every three to four weeks with methoxychlor mixed at the rate of four pounds of 50 per cent wetable methoxychlor powder to 50 gallons of water. This is safe to use on dairy cows. DDT or toxaphene gives good control, but should not be used on dairy cows.

Rasmussen stated that further control can be obtained by spraying barns with a five per cent DDT emulsion to exterminate house flies and stable flies. Tests revealed this procedure would enable the farmer to be practically free of the pests for 73 to 98 days.

Lice on cattle, hogs, and in chicken houses can be killed, and normal hatching of larva prevented by the use of benzene hexachloride mixed at the rate of two pounds (six per cent gamma benzene hexachloride) to 50 gallons of water. Lindane, chlordane or toxaphene will also kill both larvae and adult lice.

Intestinal Parasites

Intestinal parasites attack both beef and dairy cattle. Warm summer heat and humidity, Rasmussen said, will provide perfect breeding ground for these parasites. Calves eat the dormant eggs of several kinds of round worms, hook worms and nodular worms as they graze infested pastures. These eggs hatch into worms attaching themselves to the lining of the stomach or intestinal wall where they live on the blood of the calf. Calves become extremely ill and the disease kills these young animals if allowed to go unchecked. An estmated 80 per cent of all young cattle are infected to some degree each year.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has developed a chemical compound called phenathiazine that is most effective in controlling stomach worms. It can be administered as a drench, in capsules, or powdered in feed.

Your vocational agricultural teacher or county agent will be glad to give you a booklet covering the latest controls on livestock insects. Be sure to get your copy from him the next time you are in town.

He Carves Replica Of Boyhood Farm

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., (AP) — Growing up around Albert E. Halladay, 85, is the farm—in minature—he knew as a boy.

Halladay farmed until he was 55, sold real estate until he was past 80, then took up wood carving. With jack knife and hacksaw he carves out in authentic detail the equipment which farmers have used:

The maple sap tub with its little spigot and two wooden buckets alongside, all mounted on a sled pulled by two steers yoked together; a model of a long-disused milk wagon; a little dumpwagon that preceded the modern manure-spreader; grindstone, wheelbarrow, pitchfork, bucksaw, shovels, rakes, a buggy.

400 DOGS AND NO LICENSES

GREENCASTLE, Pa., (AP)—A comely 15-year-old high school sophomore, Ina Reichard, keeps 400 dogs at home and gets away without buying a single dog tag.

The self-styled dog fancier's pets are made out of stone, china, glass, wood and other materials, they come in almost every size, breed, shape and pose. Ina started her collection in 1938.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Recommendations to improve Illinois livestock marketing will be made from answers to questionnaires sent to farmers by the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

RINSE PENS

Be sure to rinse the pens well if you use a coal tar distinfectant in your farrowing house, because it can severely burn a little pig's skin.

County Farmers Enter Hogs in Registry Program

Marlin E. LeFevre, Harmon, with six litters; N. H. LeFevre & Sons, Sterling, with eight litters; Heiman brothers, Compton., with four litters; Wayne R. Schmitt, Rock Falls, with a litter of 10 pigs; and Lawrence Maxwell, Sterling, with four litters of purebred Duroc hogs, have each entertered the Duroc production regis try program according to B. R. Evans, secretary of the United Duroc Record association, Peoria.

Many breeders are nominating litters this year in keeping with that demand for more production records on swine. Thus, more official production records are becoming available to aid farmers and other breeders in the selection of qualified breeding animals. Swine producers are becoming more efficient in their operations by giving more attention to official production records.

Set Record

In keeping with this trend, breeders of Duroc hogs last year set a new all-time record high in their breed's official production registry Total litters nominated in 1950 was 4,185. This was 644 over the previous year.

A production registry qualifying litter is one in which 8 or more pigs are raised to a minimum 56-day weight of 320 pounds for mature sows or 275 pounds for gilts under 15 months of age at farrowing time. The sow may qualify after two such litters, and get a star for each additional PR litter.

WATCH HAZARDS

Clean up accident hazards around your farm before the busy spring season starts.

—Dixon's history will be told in the record-breaking 270-page Centennial edition of The Telegraph to be published May 1.

Antibiotics Now Accepted as Supplements to Hog Rations

Antibiotics are now an accepted valuable supplement to hog nutrition. Though scientists still do not know how the drugs work, they cannot dispute the faster gains, the savings of feed, the weaning of thriftier pigs and fewer runts and the general health improvements reported at hoglots and test-stations over the country.

In the Iowa station more than 1,000 pigs have been fed crystalline aureomycin, terramycin, penicillin, and so on down the list. The results, cited in the April issue of a farm magazine showed aureomycin boosting gains by 20 per cent over a good ration containing all essential vitamins. Pigs gained as much as two pounds a day, from weaning to 200 pounds.

Feed Efficiency

The feed efficiency story has been almost as good in the Iowa tests. Growing-fattening pigs getting aureomycin in their ration from weaning to market have produced 10 pounds of pork on 349 pounds of feed. That's 20 pounds of feed less than was required by the basal ration including vitamin B12.

The Iowa test also demonstrated the benefits of feeding antibiotics to sows during gestation and lactation. The article reports that sows weaned litters weighing 11 pounds more a pig than control lots fed a good ration without aureomycin. Further, there were almost no cases of scouring. It is believed that the drugs reduce irritation and caused by bad bacteria in the intestine and thus eliminate the cause of scouring.

Eat and Drink More

Pigs eat and drink more with antibiotics in their diet, the article states. This is a factor in improving gains because rate of gain and total feed eaten are closely related. In the Iowa experiment, pigs fed from weaning to 100 pounds at an average of one-half pound of feed more a day when the antibiotic was included.

Some antibiotic do a better job than others. Aureomycin and terramycin have given best results. Penicillin is next, followed by bacitracin, polymixin,, and streptomycin. Practical levels for feeding vary with the antibiotic as well as with the seriousness of the disease or nutritional problems.

U. of I. Expert Claims Farmer Income Fell Below 1949 Level

FARM INCOME DOWN IN 1950. Many people think that farmers got rich in 1950. But official reports indicate otherwise.

Illinois farmers received $1,720,000,000 from the sale of farm products in 1950. Ths is $20,000,000, or about one per cent, less than in 1949. These figures are taken from official government estimates of farm income made by the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Estimates made by this bureau are generally considered to be reliable.

Illinois farmers sold $996,000,000 worth of livestock and livestock products in 1950. These sales included meat animals, milk, poultry and eggs. This total was down about one-half of one per cent from that of the previous year. Sales of crops in 1950 totaled $724,000,000, about one per cent less than in 1949.

All the nation's farmers together in 1950 sold products valued at $27,921,000,000. This amount is about one per cent less than they received in 1949.

EXPENSES HIGHER. Farm operators' production expenses rose to $19,081,000,000 in 1950, compared with $18,038,000,000 in 1949. This increase of more than five per cent is for the whole United States.

NET INCOME LOWER. Now let's subtract 1950 production expenses from receipts from marketings to get the net cash income from farm operations. What we have left is $8,840,000,000. This total is down 12 per cent from 1949, 28 per cent from 1948, and 33 per cent from 1947. Since 1947 net farm income has been squeezed both by declining prices for farm products and by rising expenses of production.

These figures are for only cash income and expenses. They do not include the value of home-grown farm products used by the family or the rental value of the farmhouse.

Government paymetns to farmers should be added to the income figure shown above. In recent years such payments have added about one per cent to cash receipts and about two per cent to net income.

The year 1951 promises to bring an increase in farm income for the first time in three years. In January the checks farmers received in payment for their products were about 10 per cent larger than they received a year earlier. In February their cash receipts from marketings were about 20 per cent gretaer than in February, 1950.

Prices of most farm products were relatively low during the first half of 1950. After mid-year they rose sharply. No such increase is now in propect for 1951. Therefore most of the increase in income due to higher prices is likely to come in the first six months of this year. As the months roll by there will probably be less difference between the figures for the two years.

But farmers will not be able to keep all of this larger income. Production costs are rising. They went up five per cent in 1950 and will probably go up 10 per cent more in 1951.

Then there is Uncle Sam. Farmers will have to give him a bigger bite out of their 1951 earnings.

Predicts Space Ships for Trip Around the Moon

CANBERRA, (AP)—Dr. David F. Martyn, an Australian scientist, says some of us may be here when robot space ships are flying round the moon. He told a reporter, however, it was highly improbable that scientists would ever land on the moon.

Dr. Martyn recently returned from the United States where he consulted with U. S. Air Force officers on atmospheric problems. He is chief scientist of the Radio Research Board of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization. He also predicted that "in our time" artificial "space stations" would circle the globe, recording by radio valuable information for scientists on earth.

"This is not idle speculation," the scientist said. "It is something to which scientists in America are giving serious consideration. A great deal of the work they are doing is highly secret. I doubt whether it has anything to do with the flying saucers people have reported."

Czech Newspaper Raps Beuticians

PLZEN, Czechoslovakia, (AP) —Some hairdressers' salons in Czechoslovakia are nothing better than "reservations of the bourgeoisie," says the Plzen Communist newspaper Pravda.

Though now city-owned, it said, they "cultivate the old morals and have become the last refuge of the 'mesdames'."

"It is one's own business, of course, how one has oneself disfigured," the paper went on. "But the time wasted in such titivations and the thought of the reserves of labor that are still unused are something to think about."

The Newschart above shows relative number of casualties suffered by major UN forces fighting in Korea. Also given are the percentage of casualties and the approximate total of troops supplied by each nation. Note the break in the bar representing U. S. losses. To show this bar in relative proportion to the others would require a chart about 12 feet high. In addition to the nine nations listed, several others have forces in Korea but have suffered negligible or no losses. These include: New Zealand, South Africa, Belgium, Thailand and Sweden. Highest percentage of casualties to troops involved was suffered by the French battalion attached to the U. S. 23rd Division. This unit suffered heavy losses in a delaying action during the first retreat north of Seoul and in hand-to-hand fighting near Wonju. The Turks also lost heavily in these actions.

State Farmers Facing Labor Shortage--IAA

CHICAGO—Illinois farmers face a shortage of skilled labor as spring work swings into high gear, according to results of a survey announced by the Illinois Agricultural association. The survey indicates that where farm labor shortages now exist, livestock and dairy production is being cut and a reduction of cultivated acreage is being planned.

Each of the 99 county Farm Bureaus in the state was asked to survey the farm labor situation in its county, and then file a report to the association the state-wide Farm Bureau organization with more than 181,000 farm families as members.

'Dangerous Shortage'

Most of the counties reporting feel there will be a "dangerous shortage" of manpower by next year. And a large percentage of the counties feel there is a farm manpower shortage now.

Meat production will be hard hit, a number of counties reported. Other counties reported anticipated cuts in the fall pig crop.

The draining of manpower to defense jobs is hitting the farm labor supply harder than selective service.

In those counties where the big wages of defense plants was successful in luring farm labor away from the farm, the supply was hard-hit. The survey shows that out of every seven men taken from the farm by either the draft or fegense work, four were taken by the defense plants and three by selective service, enlistments, or reserve duties.

Bad in South

Southern Illinois counties particularly reported the effect of war plants. So did the counties surrounding the big industrial areas of St. Louis, Rockford, Rock Island and, to a lesser extent, Peoria and Chicago.

"We can't compete with the ridiculously high wages being paid in war work," one county report stated. "It is going to be next to impossible for farmers to get help," another county survey said.

According to the survey, besides a cut in meat production and a shift in crop acreage to pasture or legume crops, the farm labor shortage will have these direct results in the next 12 to 18 months:

Long Working Hours

Longer working hours will be required for those remaining on the farm. Some farmers will come out of retirement to help out. Other farmers, unable to get help, will be forced to sell their farm and retire.

Many farmers will reduce their dairy herds. A few farmers will sell out and go into defense work, either through necessity or choice.

The counties reporting were about equally divided as to the kind of job being done by the selective service boards. A bare majority thought the boards were doing a good job of granting deferments for farm labor in cases where needed. Some, however, reported the only grounds for deferring farm labor was illness or physical disability. Many said, "No deferments for farm labor are considered."

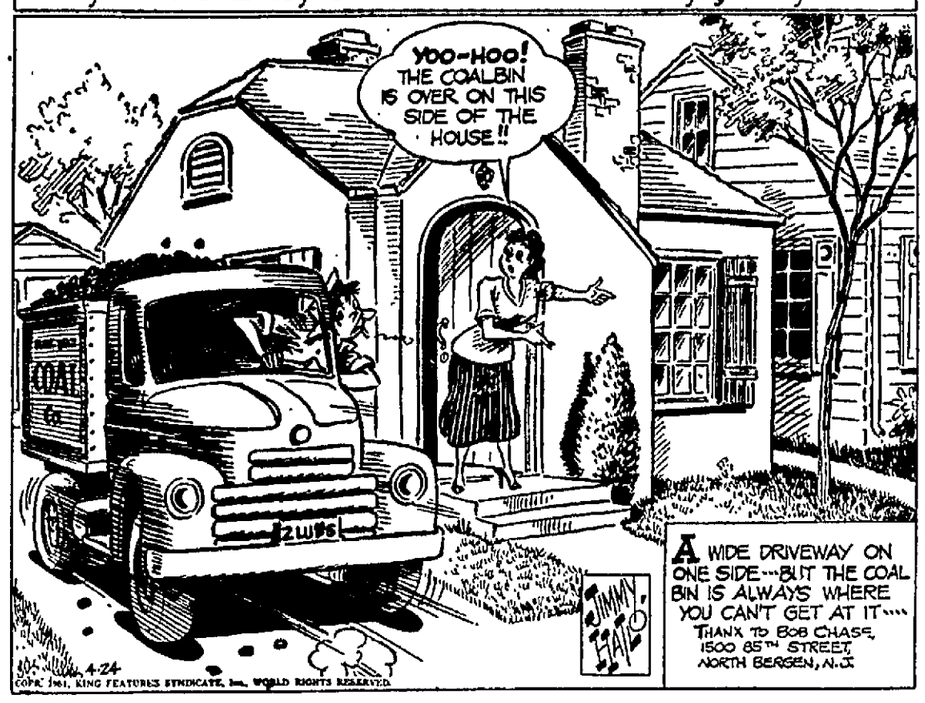

Draft Inequal

The consensus seemed to be that an interpretation of the overall selective service policy concerning farm labor was urgently needed. Inequality in cases—both within their county and in adjacent counties—is too evident, the surveyed counties indicated.

The county reports agreed the old custom of neighboring, or helping one another out, would be practiced to take up the slack. "It's never died out in our counties," many said. One county report suggested the peak load would come all at once, hence each farmer would be so busy doing his own work, he would not have time to help his neighbor.

However, it appears the farmers will help one another out when needed. "They might be forced to," wrote one county. "We expect they will in season work such as haying and harvesting small grain," said another report. "We'll have it to some extent in our county," said a third, "but it will not greatly relieve the situation here."

Shaking Pigs Reported in State Again

URBANA—"Shaking pigs" have been reported in Illinois again. Although the shaking seldom affects a pig's growth, very young pigs sometime are unable to suckle.

Dr. P. D. Beamer of the Univeristy of Illinois college of veterinary medicine says one central Illinois farmer reports that about 50 of his 80 little pigs shake. The shaking started when the pigs were farrowed or soon afterward.

The shaking is due to muscular spasms, but no one knows what causes them. About 12 pigs in this herd have died, probably because the shaking keeps them from suckling enough to get adequate milk.

Dr. Beamer says this farmer has some normal litters, but in the litters that are affected, nearly all the pigs shake.

If the shaking pigs can be kept alive for a few days by helping them 'nurse or by hand feeding them, they can then usually suckle by themselves. Most pigs with this odd condition get over the shaging by weaning time.

Congress May Abolish RFC Despite Truman Appointment

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP) — By this time you may be thoroughly puzzled about the RFC—the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—and where it stands now.

A senate investigation of the agency made many headlines. The RFC may get into the headlines again, and probably will. This is an explanation of what has happened and what lies ahead.

In the depression days of 1932 RFC was created—while Herbert Hoover was president—and was intended as one of the means the government could use to get business going again.

It has been making government loans to businesses, particularly small ones, which for one reason or another have had difficulty getting them from the usual sources, such as banks.

Under Banking Committee

Congress has various committees which watch the doings of the many government agencies. And the RFC comes within the province of the senate's banking ad currency committee.

This committee has a subcommittee, headed by Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, which had the special job of keeping an eye on RFC.

In February, 1950 his subcommittee began an investigation of RFC but this didn't become sensational until the early part of 1951.

Then his committee's report alleged that some of President Truman's aides had used their influence on RFC to make loans to people in whom they were interested.

Grabbed Letters

At the same time President Truman got from RFC a great bundle of RFC correspondence reportedly indicating that some members of congress had used their influence with RFC, too, to get loans for people in whom they were interested.

Fulbright's committee in the midst of all this made a recommendation that the five-man board which runs RFC be replaced by a single man, a chairman or director or boss.

The subcommittee felt that under the five-man set-up—where a majority of the five can decide on the loans to be made—responsibility for everything that's done is too divided and that it's too easy for any one of the five to pass the buck.

President Truman sent a plan to congress, in line with this recommendation. Although there was a lot of sentiment in congress to wipe out RFC, and still is, the plan was approved, narrowly, in congress.

Nominates Chief

When it was okayed, Mr. Truman nominated William Stuart Symington, a St. Louis businessman, to be the new one-man head of RFC

He is supposed to take the job by May 1. The senate must approve his nomination, formally submitted yesterday.

But—this doesn't end the business. The Fulbright committee hasn't dropped its investigation of what RFC has done. It still is digging into White House connections with RFC, so there will be more on that score.

And there's still the chance that congress may in the end abolish RFC altogether. This won't be handled by Fulbright's subcommittee but rather by the senate's full banking and currency committee.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

It certainly looks as if coal is here to stay, despite the existence of other fuels with which it must compete.

During the 12 months which ended last February 28, the soft coal industry produced and shipped nearly 560,000 tons, including a re-stocking of depleted storage piles. And it is now predicted that production for consumption during the present calendar year will be at about the same high rate.

All the major consumers of coal are showing an increasing appetite, including the electric utilities and the railroads. More coal is being used by steel and by general industry. More is being exported. And domestic use for home-heating is running at an annual rate of nearly 90,000,000 tons.

This speaks well for the vigor and progressiveness of the coal industry. Like all free enterprise, it has faced and met tough competition. It has held down costs by immensely improving production methods—and this has also made a great contribution to safety in the mines and to miners' wages and working conditions. It has carried on a very extensive research program, which has given users a better, cleaner and more adaptable product. Its purpose is to improve coal's service to all types of consumers—which is always an industry's purpose in a competitive economy.

Last, but certainly not least, coal is one of the essential mainstays of our rearmament effort. It is a weapon in war, and a tool in peace.

SURVEY ON INFLATION

Some years ago the Psychological Corporation, under the direction of Dr. Henry C. Link, conducted a 5,000-interview survey in which this question was asked: "Because of inflation, the dollar will buy less today than two or three years ago. Which one of these three reasons is most to blame: Labor unions pushing up wages, high company profits, high government spending and borrowing?"

Of the 5,000 people interviewed, 49 per cent said government spending and borrowing; 18 per cent said rising wages; 14 per cent said big profits, and 19 per cent were uncertain. In all income and educational groups, the answers were in about the same proportion.

The fact that nearly half of this typical group of citizens realize that government spending and fiscal policies are the major cause of inflation is a fine sign. In the past, a great many of us have fixed our attention on the symptoms of inflation while totally overlooking the causes of this economic disease. A good example of that failure to see the forest because of the trees is found in periodic demands that retail stores at once cut their prices or face consumer boycotts. Here is a case where one of the victims of inflation is made a goat. The retailer has no control over the prices he must pay for his goods, his profit margins are very small, and he is as helpless as the rest of us.

In any event, the only hope for checking inflation lies in a vigorous reform within the government, and an about-face in present spending and borrowing policies. An awakening public must demand that be done, and without procrastination.

WHEN THE GOVERNMENT MUSCLED IN

In a recent article in the New York Herald Tribune, David Lawrence dealt with the possibility of electric shortages in the Pacific Northwest and with current reports that private users may suffer curtailment of service and perhaps rationing. Then he said, "That may be the penalty which private users in the Northwest will have to pay in order that the Interior Department may continue its feud against private electric power companies and their investors as more and more money is used from the treasury of the United States to carry on the fight."

It is a matter of fact that no one ever so much as thought of a power shortage in the Northwest until the government came into the picture, built Booneville, Grand Coulee and the other big tax-subsidized dams, and started its program of socialization of enterprise. Prior to that time, the heavily-taxed, publicly-regulated utilities went quietly ahead selling low cost power to all who wanted it, and building for the future. They expanded as their territory expanded, and there was always a safe margin of potential output over current requirements.

But when the government muscled in, everything changed. Faced with the possibility of socialization, private enterprise could not carry on its normal expansion work. It didn't know from one year to the next whether it would be permitted to exist or not. Under those circumstances, investors and managers naturally become wary. The bureaucrat was the boss.

The moral of this is plain. Here—as in England and elsewhere—socialization and the threat of socialization always produce one thing, and that thing is scarcity.

The largest steam turbines are around 160,000 kilowatts, whereas the largest reciprocating steam engines are about 7500 kilowatts. Their efficiency is approximately 18 per cent, less than half that of the turbines. The largest commercial sized Diesel engine, for driving AC electrical generators, is about 6000 kilowatts.

Increasing the average length of life will result in a greater creative output on the part of our geniuses, but the most fruitful years of creative work will still be those between 30 and 39.

The Doctor Says:

There Are Accurate Ways To Diagnose Ear Trouble

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Several good questions about Meniere's disease have been sent in by Mrs. W. Others, no doubt, are interested in the same things. "How," she asks, "can a specialist tell that a person has Meniere's disease?" First there are the symptoms of dizzy spells, ringing in the ears, and slight loss of hearing.

Then there are a number of special tests including spinning in a rotating chair and testing with tuning forks. In fact the special methods and equipment available are such that an accurate diagnosis can almost always be made.

Another thing Mrs. W. asks is whether Meniere's disease is related to a brain tumor. The answer to this is "usually not." Once in a while a brain tumor produces symptoms similar to those of Meniere's disease but this is the cause only in a small proportion of those who suffer with this condition.

Then Mrs. W. inquires about treatment. The majority of cases are caused by the accumulation of fluid in the inner portion of the ear (sometimes spoken of as dropsy). If the amount of fluid can be lessened the symptoms tend to improve.

Hence one form of treatment has been aimed at cutting down the fluid intake of the body or removing excess fluid. Other medical treatments are often used involving the giving of certain drugs.

"Is Meniere's disease fatal and does an operation guarantee results?" are Mrs. W.'s final questions. No the disease is not fatal. Rather it tends to run on for years with gradual improvement in some of the unpleasant symptoms such as dizziness and ringing in the ears. There is apt to be some increase in the loss of hearing.

OPERATIONS TRIED

As to operation guaranteeing results, this must be answered with a "no" also. In fact it is impossible to guarantee results from any operaton. Although operation has sometimes been used for Meniere's disease, the results have been variable.

Space prevents saying much more about this disease now, but I should like to mention one thing more. Because of the dizzy spells victims of Meniere's disease are particularly liable to falls in which they may injure themselves. This is something they—and their families and friends—should guard against.

Dr Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week Watch for it.

No Man Ever Leaves Wife He Enjoys Being With

"No man ever leaves a wife he enjoys being with. But many have divorced superb cooks, fashion plates, wise managers, and devoted mothers," Louise Bruner points out in a recent magazine article.

That first sentence is one wives should memorize and take to heart.

But how can you be sure your husband enjoys being with you? He does if you can answer "Yes" to the following:

Do you find something to laugh about together every day? You can, you know, if you look for the amusing side of little every day incidents and share your laughter with your husband.

Do you make your husband feel adequate to all of his responsibilities? You can do that by appreciating what he does for you, instead of being unhappy because some other woman has more than you do, and letting him know that you believe in his ability and his own special talents.

DO YOU TAKE IT EASY?

Do you have a relaxed, easy attitude, so that small annoyances, sudden changes of plans, and emergencies don't upset you?

Do you honestly try to see things from your husband's point of view? Men and women have very different ideas on many things, and even though a woman may not think as her husband does it is important that she realize that he has as much right to his ideas as she has to hers. And she must remember that hers aren't necessarily always right.

Do you know how to play? A hardworking man needs to relax completely now and then and for a little while forget his responsibilities. But many wives never really share such carefree interludes, because they are always serious, always practical, always worrying about details.

Are you happy? If you are, your husband will enjoy being with you. If you aren't, you can't expect anyone to find you good company.

VOICE of the PEOPLE

Dixon, Ill.
April 20, 1951

Dixon Evening Telegraph
Dixon, Illinois
To the Editor:

All of America has been paying homage to a brave, courageous, and patriotic soldier. General MacArthur undoubtedly deserves the welcome that has been tendered him by his countrymen. It is their only way of showing their appreciation and gratitude for his many years of service to their country and upon their behalf. He merits every gesture of respect, honour, and affection that we can show him.

However, we should not let our admiration for him as a man and as a great military leader distract us from a calm, cool, clear-headed appraisal of the true issues behind the Truman-MacArthur controversy.

Gen. MacArthur's report to congress was moving, eloquent, and undoubtedly sincere, but in telling his own story fully, freely, and completely, he did not, as I for one hoped he would, succeed in doing anything to abate the bitter controversy which has raged ever since he was fired 10 days ago by President Truman.

MacArthur emphasized again his fundamental belief that the Korean conflict must be spread to the Chinese mainland and Manchuria, even though that means more war rather than less war.

As part of that strategy, he once more urged the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist troops to open a second front on the Red China coast. He repeated his disbelief that this would draw Russia into the conflict and thus touch off World War III.

He paid tribute to Chiang's regime on Formosa and stated that Chiang's administration of the Formosans had refuted the malicious gossip which had undermined his regime in China proper.

The majority of American and other, military, diplomatic, and independent observers has agreed for years that it was the corruption of Chiang's government that led to his ultimate downfall—and not malicious gossip. And it is a fact that today, independent observers in Formosa, far from praising Chiang's rule on that island have consistently reported that the new government is so inadequate that majority of Formosans would prefer to even a return to Japanese administration.

So it seems possible that MacArthur could be mistaken on this point just as he was upon his belief that Red China would not enter the Korena conflict. In the mass hysteria of the past few days we must be careful not to get the idea that Douglas MacArthur is infallible. Our last President Franklin D. Roosevelt once said: "As a nation, we may take pride in the fact that we are soft hearted; but we cannot afford to be soft-hearted." This is wonderul advice for us to apply at this time.

There was much that Gen. MacArthur left unsaid. In telling us what he thought our course should be in the Far East he failed to tell us what he thought our antagonists would do in reply. He said that Red China was already waging an all out war against us—but a little thought upon the subject makes me wonder if this is true.

Red China is not bombing our bases in Japan. They aren't trying to sink our ships on the seas. They aren't trying to block our long supply lane. They haven't even attacked Chiang's army in Formosa. Won't they at least try to do all these things if we take the new measures against them that MacArthur advocates?

And if China should do this what will happen then? MacArthur did not say. He says he is against war and doesn't wish to extend it but wants to bring it as speedy an end as possible. But if the enemy bombs our Japanese bases, strikes at Formosa and at our ships at sea won't we have an extended war and one of far greater magnitude than the limited one we are now waging and which our government advocates we continue waging.

If we invade the enemie's present "sanctuary" of Manchuria; and blockade and bomb and help Chiang's army to attack their said "sanctuary," where will their next sanctuary be? The enemies planes, subs, and ships will be coming then from Russia, if they come at all, and it seems certain they would not stop short there. Could we continue to permit this to happen for long? Once started on such a policy we would have to continue from one "sanctuary" to the next. From war in Korea to war in China, to war in Russia. Is this what Gen. MacArthur and the people of the U.S. really want?

I think we should consider all this sensibly while we still can before we are all swept away on the great wave of sentiment and soft-heartedness that we all may feel for our homecoming hero and martyr, Gen. MacArthur.

Having Lead Is Important

By OSWALD JACOBY

"The player who wins a trick," Dick Kahn was saying as I poked my head in the doorway, "has the right to lead to the next trick. And sometmes that privilege of leading is just as important as the trick you've just won."

The scene was the Card School, and Dick Kahn was talking to an "intermediate" class. I tiptoed in to listen.

East wins the first trick with the ace of spades and returns the queen of diamonds. South takes the ace of diamonds and stews about the best way to proceed.

Declarer must plan to lead trumps from the dummy twice and must lead clubs from the dummy once. Hence three tricks must be won somehow in the dummy.

South begins by leading the king of spades from his hand and ruffing it in dummy. Dummy returns a trump, and South wins a finesse with the queen.

South next leads the six of clubs, west plays low, and dummy wins with the king. This enables dummy to lead another trump, and South finesses again, but then he leaves the king of trumps out in order to keep control of the hand.

Now South cashes the king of diamonds and continues with the seven of diamonds. East wins and returns his last trump (his safest lead), South winning with the ace.

At this point South produces the deuce of diamonds and wins the last diamond trick with dummy six. That enables him to lead a clue from dummy and finesse the ten from his own hand.

South therefore makes his contract by winning three tricks in dummy. One, the king of clubs, is a high-card trick; another, the spade ruff, is a ruffing trick; and the third, the diamond, is a low-card trick.

Dick's class thought it was a good lesson. So did I.

Q—With neither side vulnerable your partner deals and bids one heart. The next player bids two diamonds. You hold: Spades K-J-7-4, Hearts Q-2, Diamonds Q-5-3-2, Clubs A-10-6. What do you do?

A—Double. You have a good hand but cannot find a likely-looking bid. Your partner should rescue your double with unbalanced distribution, particularly if he is very short in diamonds. If he can pass the double, you will probably get a fine result.

TODAY'S QUESTION

With neither side vulnerable your partner deals and bids one heart. The next player bids two diamonds. You hold: Spades 7-3-2, Hearts 9-2, Diamonds K-J-9-8-7-6, Clubs 8-4. What o you do?

Raid Lasalle Casino Again; Trial Delayed

LASALLE, (AP) — William Cawley, arrested in a raid on Kelly and Cawley's establishment in LaSalle Sunday night, has been granted a continuance of his case until May 2.

Cawley appeared yesterday before Police Magistrate Jerry Roach and was released on $500 bond. He was charged with possessing a gambling device.

Edward F. Kassprowicz, LaSalle police chief, said the owner of the establishment, Thomas Cawley, told him he—Cawley—was through "upstairs" after police raided the place. Thomas Cawley is a brother of William.

Kassprowicz said "upstairs" apparently meant Cawley's second floor game rooms at the LaSalle casino and the Paddock club in Streator.

Will Announce Price Method Plan Tonight

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government will announce tonight the new method by which an estimated 75,000 manufacturers will compute new ceiling prices affecting a large share of consumer goods.

Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) officials said more price reductions than increases are expected under the regulation. They told reporters they could not estimate how much merchandise bought by consumers will be affected. They said it would be "a large part."

Prices of goods on retail shelves will not be changed for some time, however. Manufacturers will be given about a month to compute their new ceiling prices and put them into effect.

Dirksen, Douglas Oppose 4th Class Postal Rate Hike

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Three senators are objecting to letting the Interstate Commerce Commission fix postage rates on fourth class mail.

The three—Senators Douglas (D-Ill.), Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Johnston (D-SC)—are members of the senate post office-civil service committee.

They introduced legislation yesterday to increase postage on parcel post and catalogues. Other fourth class rates would remain unchanged.

At the same time they were critical of a house appropriations committee action which gave the ICC some authority over mail rates.

Johnston, committee chairman, insisted in a statement that adjustment of rates is a responsibility of congress and should no be shifted to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

He estimated that postal revenues might be increased $58,000,000 a year, based on present volume, under the bill introduced yesterday.

The postmaster general, acting under provisions of a supplemental appropriation bill passed last September, filed a petition with the ICC in October asking increases in fourth class mail rates. Johnston said the increases would bring an estimated $105,000,000.

About 215,000 Americans are expected to die of cancer this year, the American Cancer Society points out.

'Hell 'n' Maria' Dawes, Former Vice President, Succumbs at 85

CHICAGO, (AP)—Gen. Charles Gates (Hell 'n Maria) Dawes, banker and statesman who won fame in many fields during his cyclonic career, died suddenly last night.

The 85-year-old former vice president, who served under President Coolidge from 1925-29, died of coronary thrombosis in his suburban Evanston home. He was stricken while talking to his wife, Caro.

Dawes, who was in public life for more than 30 years and often was the center of fierce controversies and momentous events, had not been ailing, a family spokesman said. However, he said, Dawes, he was chairman of the board of the City National Bank and Trust company, did not go to his office yesterday.

Was to Greet Mac

Dawes had been named as honorary chairman of the committee to greet Gen. MacArthur on his Chicago visit Thursday and presumably planned to attend the celebration.

Success came to Dawes in banking and utilities. And he was prominent in public life—as vice president, as ambassador to Great Britain, as co-creator of the "Dawes Plan," and as the director of the government's $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation. He also won fame as an author and composer.

After World War I he won the nickname "Hell 'n Maria" from his testimony before a house committee investigating the administration of the war department. And his underslung pipe—which appeared at first glance to be upside down—also typified Dawes to the nation a generation ago.

Knew Him Best

It was as "Hell 'n Maria" that America remember Dawes best.

Dawes was a brigadier general with the A. E. F. in France in World War I and was assigned as general purchasing officer.

Appearing before the house investigating committee, he was asked: "Isn't it true that excessive prices were paid for mules?"

"Hell 'n Maria" shouted the general. "I'd have paid horse prices for sheep if the sheep could have hauled artillery."

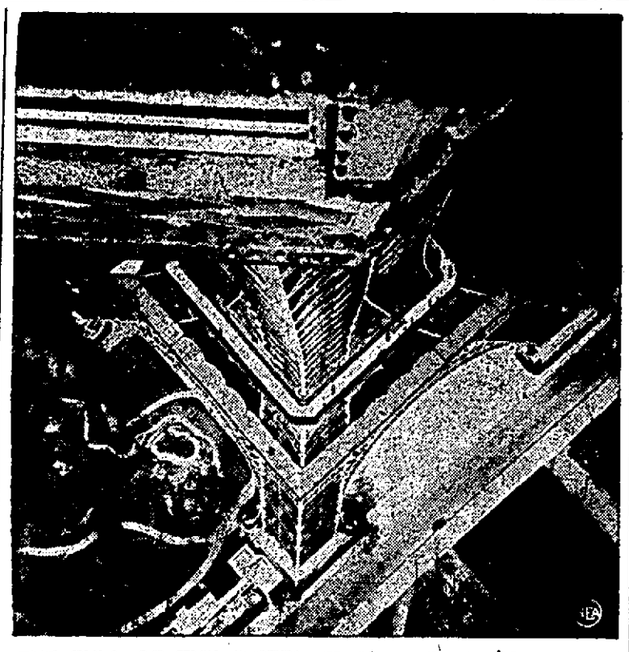

Dawes, who was born in Marietta, O., started his business life in Lincoln, Neb., as a lawyer and in banking but he came to Chicago before the turn of the century. His brother, Rufus, was associated with him in his banking business.

Rochelle Project Halted When Bid Judged Too High

ROCHELLE—Plans of the Rochelle city council to construct a sewerage treatment plant received a setback last night when the council rejected the only bid received because it was $60,000 above the estimate.

Officials of the Jannisch Haggerty, Inc., firm, Janesville, Wis., explained higher labor costs necessitated a $360,000 bid while the council expected to get the work done for $300,000.

The council voted to advertise for more bids which will be opened May 28 by the new council which takes offive May 7.

Truman President 'In Name Only' Says McCarthy

CUDAHY, Wis., (AP)—Harry Truman is president "in name only," says Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

"The Hiss crowd," the Wisconsin Republican senator said last night,, "still runs the state department and not only determines foreign policy but military strategy as well."

McCarthy told a chamber of commerce dinner he thinks Mr. Truman "is essentially just as loyal as the average American citizen," but "the Acheson group has almost hypnotic powers over him."

Those who talk about impeaching the president "largely are wasting their time," he said, adding, "We must impeach Acheson, the heart of the octopus."

McCarthy told the audience the president did not fire Gen. MacArthur.

"That was done by a sinister, many-headed, many-tenacled monster conceived in the Kremlin and given birth to by Acheson with Attlee and Morrison as midwives."

(He was referring to British Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Minister Morrison.)

Mac to Get the Fireworks When He Arrives for Chicago Visit

CHICAGO, (AP)—Gen. MacArthur, to whom 17-gun salutes are no novelty, will get a 17-rocket fireworks salute as the climax of MacArthur day in Chicago Thursday.
That was announced today as civic officials and army representatives put the finishing touches to plans for a welcome that may outdo any celebration in Chicago's history.
The only possible dampener on the celebration was a weather bureau report for Thursday: Cloudy with occasional showers.

Arrive at Noon

But weather or no, from the time the general's plane arrives at around noon (CST), until the last rocket burst at Soldier field around 9 p.m., it will be a roaring, cheering holiday in Chicago.
The afternoon parade from the airport through the loop, plus the evening ceremony at Soldier field, are expected to atract some 3,000,000 spectators.
High point of the demonstrations will come when the general addresses the Soldier field crowd in a talk billed as "not a major policy speech."

"Biggest" Display

Afterward comes "The biggest fireworks display ever seen in Chicago," reception planners said.
Four big fireworks panel displays will climax the spectacle. The panels will portray a profile of MacArthur; the Marine flagraisin gon Iwo Jima; the American flag, and the Statue of Liberty.
City and county offices and all courts but the federal will close at noon Thursday. Federal offices will remain open. Public schools are on vacation this week, and Catholic schools will have a holiday Thursday.
Gen. MacArthur and his party will leave Chicago by car Friday morning for Milwaukee.

Daily Journal prints an item of interest in Dixon because one of the owners of the drugstore mentioned in the story is Whitney Brown, former Dixonite, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown and granson of Abram Brown, pioneer resident of Franklin Grove and Lee county. The story follows:
International Falls, in general, and the Brown & Hoselton drug store in particular are receiving a heap of free and favorable publicity in the current (April 21) issue of Colliers.
Walter Davenport's "48 States of Mind" column contains the following mention:
"There's nothing wrong with our economy that lower prices won't cure. To illustrate, consider Brown & Hoselton's store in International Falls, Minn. Not long ago the Messrs. Brown & Hoselton let it be known they were launching a new soda fountain and chocolate malteds would only cost 15 cents. More than 300 citizens of International Falls lined up and bought chocolate malteds. Of course the weather may have had something to do with it. It was only 25 below at the time."

Dixonite Skates To Keep Young; Doing Okay at 60

Harry Richman, 413 Van Buren av., disputes the idea that figure skating on roller skates is a young man's game.
Richmond, who is 60, made his debut April 17 with the Over 30 Dance and Figure Skating club at the Hub Rink in Chicago.
He began skating at the age of 52. Richmond was invited to join the club after a scout invited him to talk with the president. He is a well-known figure on the floor at the Sterling rink.
Richmond still wears an elastic knee cast following a fall on the ice last winter but it doesn't seem to bother his figure skating or intricate dance steps. He enjoys attending ice shows and manages to see all the big-time skating shows in Chicago.

That's an Order!

PEORIA, (AP) — "Write my mother. That's an order!" William Parker, a USMC staff sergeant barked that instruction to 73 marine recruits he instructs at the San Diego training base.
Parker's mother, Mrs. Harry Gronquist of Peoria, got 73 letters Saturday from the recruits. Recently she scolded Parker for not writing her more often.

Reject 49.7 Per Cent of Autos Tested in Dixon

The Dixon junior chamber of commerce has urged that the state legislature pass a law requiring a safety inspection test for cars periodically, similar to tests now required for trucks.
This action was taken as a result of the findings of the safety inspection test lane sponsored by the Jaycees last Saturday. Of the 229 cars tested Saturday, 114 were rejected. This was 49.7 per cent.
The largest number of rejects at the safety lane were for improper headlights. Sixty-five cars were rejected for that reason. Next highest was alignment with 55 cars rejected.
Seventeen cars were rejected for poor steering assembly, 12 for bad parking lights, eight for bad brakes, four for no stop lights, three for weak horns, two for no tail lights and one each for broken glass, no license, faulty speedometer and bad exhaust.

HATES COMMUNISM — Movie Star John Garfield told the house unAmerican activities committee in Washington that he has never been a member of the Communist party. Garfield said he always hated Communism and believes it to be a tyranny which threatens our country and the peace of the world.

Gen. M'Arthur Will Review Loyalty Parade

NEW YORK, (AP)—Gen Douglas MacArthur has agreed to review New York's loyalty parade next Saturday afternoon.
About 200,000 persons are expected to march down 5th Avenue past the reviewing stand at 67th Street.
The march, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was organized to offset the annual May day Communist parade.
While MacArthur remained secluded in his 37th floor Waldorf-Astoria hotel suite yesterday, his son, Arthur, 13, went to the circus at Madison Square Garden.

Downs Candy, Pop

Arthur downed cotton candy, pop corn, ice cream and soda pop as he saw the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey show for the first time.
Back at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel between 20,000 and 30,000 pieces of mail have piled up.
Thursday morning the general leaves for Chicago and an official welcome reception there. Milwaukee will honor him Friday.
It was announced last night that the MacArthurs will visit an aunt of Mrs. MacArthur at her home in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Monday on a one-day round trip by plane. The trip will be on the MacArthurs' 14th wedding anniversary. Murfreesboro is Mrs. MacArthur's home town.

Gets Many Offers

MacArthur's aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said at a news conference yesterday that MacArthur has received many business propositions and that $100,000-a-year isn't "by any means" the highest salary offered him.
Remington-Rand has offered MacArthur a $100,000-a-year job, but Whitney declined to comment on this particular offer.

CIO Chief Ill

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—President Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and CIO United Steelworkers, is in Mercy hospital today suffering from what aides called "a very severe abdominal complaint."
Murray, who is 63, entered the Pittsburgh hospital Sunday night. He had become ill after attending a dinner in Youngstown Saturday night. The hospital listed his condition as fair.

HIS TV COMES IN REVERSE—Polio victim Bob McKenna is able to enjoy television by mirror from his iron lung, thanks to a new reversed image set rigged up by technicians of General Electric in Rochester, N. Y. Since iron lung patients must view television by mirror, everything on a normal picture appears reversed—including backward lettering. Bob's set gets its picture in reverse, and his mirror reflects it back as a true image.

Engineers End Study, Submit Cost Estimates

Income Not Nearly Enough to Meet Construction Needs

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — State engineers hung a price tag of nearly a billion and a half dollars today on construction needs of the state's main highway system in the next 10 years.
The estimate of $1,489,637,582 was made by the state highway division in releasing details of a year's study.
Of this total, $563,769,000 represents the cost of the Chicago expressway system.
In addition, the bill for improving federal aid secondary highways—a major portion of county road network—was set at $83,185,971 during the next five years.
The 12,145 mile primary system is made up generally of roads carrying U. S. or Illinois route markings.

Does Not Have Money

The stae has nowhere near the money which would be required.
Frank Barker, chief state highway engineer, said the program is not a definite plan for meeting the needs but "merely a presentation of the problem." He added:
"It is intended, however, that by the intelligent use of a priority rating system, those highhays in greatest need of improvement will receive the earliest attention and that the correcion of less critical deficiencies may need to be deferred beyond the 10 year period of the study."

Minimum 123 Million

Charles P. Casey, state director of public works and buildings, said the estimated minimum needs for the primary and secondary systems total $123,500,000 for the next five years.
If the gas tax is increased two cents a gallon and truck license fees boosted $28,000,000 by the legislature, he said, the state would have $87,000,000 a year to spend on construction. It is now spending about $30,000,000 a year.
The survey gave these details on the road system:
1. Of the 12,145 mile primary system, 5,039 miles need immediate improvement. The report recommends 2,571 miles be resurfaced with or without widening, 2,001 miles improved by construction or reconstruction, and 467 miles by additional traffic lanes.
2. Sixty per cent of the primary system, excluding Cook county expressways, will need improvement by 1960.

4,012 Miles Deficient

3. Of the 7,168 miles in the federal aid secondary network, 4,012 miles are deficient now and 1,043 miles will become deficient in five years.
4. About 85 per cent of the primary system consists of cement pavement, which has an age expectancy of 26½ years.
5. About 31 per cent of this pavement is more than 25 years old, and 5,502 more miles will reach a similar status within five years.
6. There are about 1,083 miles of high type bituminous pavement in the primary system. The average life is estimated at 15 years.
7. Present highway standards require a minimum surface width of at least 20 feet but over 70 per cent of the present primary system is less than 20 feet wide.

Burglars Stage Two More Raids In Sterling Area

STERLING—Burglars in Sterling have made off with $925 in two breakins during the past week. The latest burglary reported to police Monday netted $275.
The George Furniture store, 417 Locust st., was entered sometime early Monday and the money taken from a cash box hidden in the store, police reported. The building was entered through a window which opens onto the roof of an adjoining building. The burglars apparently left by an alley door which was found open.
Merchant Policeman Max Crossman said that he checked the building at 1:30 a. m. Monday and found nothing out of order.
Burglars escaped with $650 in cash late Thursday night after opening a safe at the Rock River Loan corporation, 308 First av.

Hit by Weight During Parade For Mac, Dies

NEW YORK, (AP)—By an ironic twist of fate, a metal paperweight tossed out of a downtown office window during Friday's parade for Gen. Douglas MacArthur killed a man who had no interest in watching the spectacular welcome.
Mario Riccobono, 47-year-old typist, died today of a fractured skull after being hit by a half-pound paperweight which dropped from the 19th floor of the Woolworth building. Police said two girls told them the paperweight may have been tossed out accidentally with confetti.
Riccobono was trying to get back to work through the huge noon-time crowd. The banners, the flags, the traditional showers of ticker-tape, the general waving in his open car meant little to him.
He was totally blind.

WINTER TESTS

Altitude flights usually are made in winter rather than in summer, because there is less violent contrast between temperatures at high altitudes and those on the ground at that season.

Jury Rules in 'Cellar' Case

A circuit court jury today began hearing testimony in the $10,750 damage suit filed by Peter Knutson, Beloit, Wis., against Knox Motor Service, Rockford.
Another jury returned a verdict in favor of John Brasel and Harvey Foote, Lee Center, approximately three hours after it retired shortly before noon yesterday.
The jury decided that Caroline Gerdes and H. H. Gerdes, Lee Center, owed Brasel and Foote $275 for excavation of a basement. The contractors had asked $442.55 for alleged non-payment of construction costs.
Persons selected to serve on the jury in the Knutson-Knox case are John E. Salzman, Andrew Albrecht, Verne Straw, Harry E. Currens, Albert Hasselbert, Phyllis J. Camery, Harry E. Stephan, Ethel Miller, George Nettz, Lauretta Lawler, June Taylor and Leo J. Fisher.

Politicians once thought it would take 2,000 years to settle the United States, but the feat was achieved in a century.

Gen. Ridgeway Says Battle May Decide War

he is going to take some more."
Red losses Monday were estimated at nearly 12,000. About one fourth of them were from round-the-clock air attacks.

300,000 in Reserve

But that's not much out of an estimated 400,000 troopsc already committed to the attack. An assault force of that size would leave the Reds some 300,000 in reserve in North Korea.
UN troops had pulled back as much as 15 miles in places. The withdrawal was generally well ordered. But it was so fast that units frfom company to battalion size were surrounded on the west and central fronts. They fought their way out Tuesday.
On the western front where Reds were driving across the Imjin river 30 miles north of Seoul, allied forces withdrew one to nine miles to prepared positions. Operations officers described the battle situation Tuesday as stable.

when he testifies before the committee," Taft said. "We think there should be some organized answer to the case the administration will lay down."
Taft, who heads the senate Republican policy committee, has given general support to the deposed Pacific commander's proposals for blockading Red China, operating United Nations planes over Manchuria and using Chinese Nationalist troops.

Newest Attack

Senator McMahon (D-Conn), who heads the senate-house atomic committee, launched the newest atatck on MacArthur's strategy with a declaration that it would risk the possibility of World War III when the United States is unprepared for it.
In an address prepared for the senate, McMahon said the capitol may be "blown to smithereens next week" by atomic bombs if America follows the wrong policy in Asia.
Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the house Republican leader, kept the feud over MacArthur's removal boiling with a demand for the dismissal of Secretary of State Acheson. A similar demand came from the commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Charles C. Rails.

Owner after owner...Year after year-says
"IT'S DODGE FOR DEPENDABILITY"

You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the extra room, riding comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge

TAKE THE WORD of owners who know Dodge value and dependability from actual experience. "No major repairs in four years' driving" . . . "After driving another make less than a year, I'm back with Dodge again" . . . "Driven my Dodge 150,000 miles and it's still going strong." These are not unusual comments we receive from Dodge owners coast-to-coast.

Dodge dependability starts with a heavy, rugged frame, a "Get-Away" engine "speed-proofed" to resist wear, designed to be a miser on gas. There's a safe, rigid, all-steel body, rubber-mounted to eliminate rattle, squeak.

New Safer, Smoother Ride

Dodge Oriflow Shock Absorbers "float" you over roads that stop other cars, cushion vital chassis parts against road shocks . . . make them last years longer. And with this traditional Dodge quality of dependability goes extra headroom, leg room, elbow room found in no other car . . . "Watchtower" visibility in every direction. Longer lasting, smooth acting Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes make every mile you travel safer, more relaxed.

Come In Today

Take 5 minutes to check Dodge dependability in long life, in extra comfort and safety, low-cost maintenance and gas economy. It will be the most profitable 5 minutes you ever spent.

MORE MILEAGE LONGER CAR LIFE
DODGE OWNERS TESTIFY

"I'VE PUT THE EQUIVALENT OF FOUR YEARS' DRIVING ON MY '50 DODGE!"
"As a salesman, my 1950 Dodge is always on the go. I figure that I have already put the equivalent of four years of average driving on it — without spending any appreciable amount of money for repairs."
—says Harry H. Hurst, Houston, Texas

"DROVE MY 1937 DODGE 150,000 MILES!"
"Mine is a 1937 Dodge—and it's still going strong! It has already covered more than 150,000 honest, dependable miles. No wonder people say It's Dodge for dependability."
—says Mrs. Noble Swisher, Chicago, Ill.

"MY 1948 DODGE STILL LIKE NEW!"
"My work calls for thousands of miles of driving a year, yet my 1948 Dodge still has that 'new car' pep and feel. Outside of regular servicing, it has yet to see the inside of a repair shop."
—says George Kieffer, St. Louis, Mo.

Dodger Mound Corps Shines In Relief

Palica, King Help Bums Win 16-Inning Affair From Braves

By The Associated Press

Meet King, Palica, Branca and Newcombe. Not a Brooklyn law firm but the Dodger's answer to Jim Konstanty.

As brilliant as Konstanty was last year when he helped Philadelphia win the pennant as the league's most valuable player, his rescue work never matched the sensational relief pitching of this quartet.

The season is only a week old, but the four already have been credited with three relief victories. Better yet, they have pitched 13 innings all told (excluding Newcombe's rout-going effort against the New York Giants), without surrendering a run. They have yielded only three safeties.

Dressen Chortles

No wonder Manager Chuck Dressen is chortling with glee as his charges sit comfortably on top of the National league standings with five victories in six starts.

Erv Palica and Clyde King hurled 4⅔ innings of excellent relief ball yesterday as the Dodgers outlasted Boston's Braves, 2-1, in a 16-inning marathon on a clutch run-scoring single by Carl Furillo. Palica rescued starter Joe Hatten, getting the side out after Hatten had walked the first two batters to face him.

The triumph maintained the Dodgers' half-game lead over the Chicago Cubs, who nipped Pittsburgh, 2-1, on a ninth inning double by Andy Pafko that scored Hal Jeffcoat.

Giants Lose Again

The Phils handed the Giants their fifth successive defeat with an 8-4 victory under the Philadelphia lights to gain their first triumph over Jim Hearn since he came up to the majors in 1947. The righthander had whipped the Phils nine times. Rookie Jocko Thompson held the Giants to six hits.

Vic Raschi pitched the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory over his Philadelphia "cousins" for his second success of the season—his 17th lifetime win in 19 decisions with the Athletics. Vic Wertz' ninth inning home run with two mates on base gave the Tigers a 7-4 triumph over the St. Louis Browns in the only other American league game. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Cards Shade Reds

In another after-dark clash, the Cardinals shaded the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1, in St. Louis. Veteran Harry Brecheen scattered eight hits to beat Ken Raffensberger, an old Redbird nemesis. Shortstop Solly Hemus accounted for both St. Louis runs with a single and triple.

The flawless firemen roles of Palica and King for Brooklyn followed on the heels of a hitless and runless three-inning stint by Don Newcombe and a shorter one of an inning and a third by Palica on Sunday.

Ralph Branca duplicated Newcombe's performance, also at the expense of the Giants, on Saturday. In last Tuesday's opener against the Phils, it was King who came through with a two-inning effort in which he allowed no runs and only one hit in a losing cause. Brooklyn pitchers needed no relief in the other two games.

Run Was Unearned

Furillo's winning hit came with two out, scoring Billy Cox, who had singled, reached second on a sacrifice and third on Gene Mauch's bobble of Eddie Miksis's grounder. The run was unearned.

Rookie Mickey Mantle and little Phil Rizzuto led the Yankees' 13-hit attack on loser Lou Brissie and Hank Wyse. Mantle collected three singles and Rizzuto drove in two runs with a pair of one-baggers.

Held to one homer in five previous games, Detroit clubbed three yesterday to beat the Browns. Besides Wertz' ninth inning game-winner, Joe Ginsberg and Pat Mullin also hit home runs.

Richie Ashburn and Granny Hamner whacked five hits between them to lead the Phils' 13-hit attack against the Giants. Loose fielding by the Giants paved the way for Hearns' downfall. In addition to errors by Monte Irvin and Wes Westrum, Clint Hartung misplayed two fly balls into a double and triple, and Eddie Stanky and Irvin were guilty of poor play in the field.

Amboy Horseman Has Aurora Win

R. P. Lennihan of Amboy scored with a winner on the opening night of the Aurora Downs harness racing season Monday night when his Brook Trout won the third race.

Driven by Ray Wagner, Brook Trout paid a fancy $15.40 for each $2 win ticket.

HUGH'S VIEWS of SPORTS

BY HUGH HOUGH

Wrestling, once a respected sport, now a meal-ticket for physical freaks, offers a new threat to American home life these days.

FOR MANY MONTHS, in cities outside the metropolitan areas where the TV cameras roam, husbands were spared the agony of escorting their wives to see the brutes in the flesh. Hubby could curl up with a good mystery thriller on the sofa while the Mrs. exclaimed at the injustices being perpetrated on the video screen.

MIGHTY FRITZ
". . . in a bout that should prove a thriller."

All that is changed now. Wrestling promoters, notorious for their ability to sight the fast buck that even sharp-eyed boxing promoters might fail to see, now seek to defraud you and me—if we give them half a chance.

YES, WRESTLING is invading Sterling and DeKalb and other cities of like size on the nights when the gross grapplers have no TV commitments. Sterling entertains the midget variety Thursday night. DeKalb paid good money to see the king-sized goons last Friday. Dixon could be next.

Our statutes protect the unsuspecting citizen from many underhanded money-making schemes. Things are getting tougher all the time for salesmen peddling ficticious stock in non-existence gold mines and oil wells. But the wrestlers continue to fleece the unwary of perfectly good American greenbacks while the benevolent law smiles on.

IN VIEW OF THE LENIENCY with which the lawmakers regard these two-fall shill games, we feel it is our duty to warn the good citizens of this encroaching menace. We are thinking of forming our own little Kefauver committee of one to save Dixon from a fate worse than handbooks. But assistance from the strong-hearted males may be necessary. For there is something inherently weak in the female makeup which causes the gals to take this wrestling stuff seriously.

Perhaps the heating of chests and display of fangs so familiar to TV addicts satisfies some yearning in the female breast for the savage male of the storied past. The little woman glances from the virile giants of the TV screen to her mild husband who wants nothing more than his pipe, slippers and the whole davenport after dinner. Can she be blamed for sighing

BUT MEN, WE CANNOT, we shall not weaken. The plague already has visited DeKalb. Sterling is next.

Let's not let it happen here.

* * * *

IF DESPITE THE above warning there remain a depraved few who must have their wrestling, come Mighty Atlas or high water, we print the following dispatch from Capt: Harry Kidd, Sterling Gazette sports editor.

ON THE RARE OCCASIONS WHEN we don't throw such things in the wastebasket, we usually at least edit out the adjectives. But not today, dear reader. You will have to suffer along with us, thusly:

STERLING—Those famous wrestling midgets will be featured in the Sterling coliseum ring on Thursday night, April 26, at 8:30 p. m.

The Mighty Fritz and Irish Jackie meet in a bout that should prove a thriller.

Walter Palmer, former heavyweight champion wrestler meets The Mighty Atlas, and Zack Malkov meets Danny Ferrazza in the opener.

The ticket office and doors open at 7 p. m.

After tieing for the title in the Ladies league last night, Erzingers and Prescott will have their roll-off for the title of this league tonight at 8:00 o'clock . . . Megawatts won their roll-off for the crown in the IN Div. league defeating District D the first two games . . . Sunday night Viola Wilhelm had her games separated four pins with 131-135-130. . . . Pauline Stechke and Martha Hallenberg concentrated on disconcerting us Sunday and finally ended up smiling when they both beat us in the last game. Pauline by 24 pins and Martha by 71, but we had company as Pauline had her hubby Norb, sunk by 17 pins, Martha beat her better half AD 70 counters, AND Betty Knack beat that up and coming athlete Sonny by six pins . . . Before we had a chance to compliment Evelyn Williams on her new high series of 461 she rolled on Sunday night, lo and behold, she came up with a better one, having 494 last night . . . 66. Knauer of the ERO loop spaced the sets one pin with 116-117-118 . . . Andy Tilton, whom we notice was the only kegler on James Billiards last night without a 200 or over count, came up with a double win on Hank Henry, who gives a necktie to any Recreation kegler with five splits in one game, and also for converting differing difficult railroads. Last Wednesday night Andy had five splits in one game and made the 6-7-10 of the group which gave him two ties, so he now has one for weekdays and one for Sundays . . . Jay Sipes also spaced his games one pin last night with 179-128-127 and Jess Willard showed 16 pins between his with 147-163-179 . . . Sonny Knack spaced his games eight pins last night with 144-152-160 . . . Tomorrow night the Lanes Thursday night men's league is holding its banquet at the Rainbow Inn at 6:30 and President Glenn Hardesty asks all the keglers to make an effort to be present.

Dixon Netmen Sweep Singles In 8-1 Victory

Winners to Visit Tough Freeport In Meet Wednesday

Sterling served as the third straight victim for Dixon high school's tennis team Monday afternoon. Dixon swamped the visitors, 8-1.

For the Dukes, the victory came almost too easily. On Wednesday they expect to find the going tougher when they invade Freeport for a meet with the tough Pretzels.

Singles Players Win

All six Dixon singles players defeated their Sterling opponents in straight sets. Floyd Acker, the Dukes' No. 1 player, and Dick Joslyn, each took 12 singles games without a loss.

In an act of mercy, Coach Paul Hamersmith held his first five players—Acker, Al Newcomer, Joslyn, Jim Boedecker and John Kurzrock—out of doubles play. But the outcome wasn't much different.

The Dukes still won two out of three matches. John Weitzel and Dick Crawford paired up for one doubles win and John Heindel and Ray Bush accounted for the other.

One Loss Suffered

The lone Dixon loss of the day was suffered by doubles partners Dave Heindel and Dick Gordon, who bowed to Sterling's Lester Weinstine and Ron Newell, 6-1, 6-2.

Freeport, the Dukes' opponent on Wednesday, has most of its squad from last year back. Last season the Dukes split with the Pretzels in two meetings. Freeport gave a convincing display of its power Monday, defeating East Rockford, 5-2. The Pretzels are defending Big Eight champions.

SINGLES RESULTS

Acker (D) defeated Stewart (S), 6-0, 6-0.
Newcomer (D) defeated Baither (S), 6-3, 6-1.
Joslyn (D) defeated Flynn (S), 6-0, 6-0.
Boedecker (D) defeated Scott (S), 6-2, 6-4.
Kurzrock (D) defeated Diamond (S), 6-4, 6-0.
Crawford (D) defeated Sunday (S), 6-2, 6-1.

DOUBLES RESULTS

Crawford-Weitzel (D) defeated Allen-Smith (S), 6-0, 6-0.
J. Heindel-Bush (D) defeated Persona-Frimodt (S), 6-2, 6-1.
Weinstine-Newell (S) defeated D. Heindel-Gordon (D), 6-1, 6-2.

Cubs Continue To Roll; Lown Hurls Today

CHICAGO, (AP)—Rookie Omar (Turk) Lown, obtained by the Cubs last fall for the $10,000 waiver price, will try to give Manager Frankie Frisch's hot-starting outfit its fifth victory in six games today.

Lown will face Vernon Law in the final of a two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates in Wrigley field. Frank Hiller, the ex-New York Yankees, notched his second win of the season yesterday in twirling the Cubs to a 2-1 verdict over the Bucs before a ladies day crowd of 13,004.

The Pirates nicked Hiller for eight scattered blows while veteran Mel Queen held the Cubs to five. Bill Serena homered in the fifth inning to shove the Cubs into a 1-1 tie. Then Andy Pafko sewed up the game in the ninth with a double.

Pafko's clout brought home Hal Jeffcoat who was running for singling Hank Sauer.

The rampaging White Sox, who, like the Cubs, have a 4-1 mark, were idle yesterday but get back to business today at Cleveland. Tomorrow the Comiskeys will return to Chicago for a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns. Single games originally were slated tomorrow and Thursday, but the latter game was moved up to clear the way for Chicago's General MacArthur celebration.

Bobby Cain will make his 1951 pitching debut for the Sox today against the Tribe's Bob Feller.

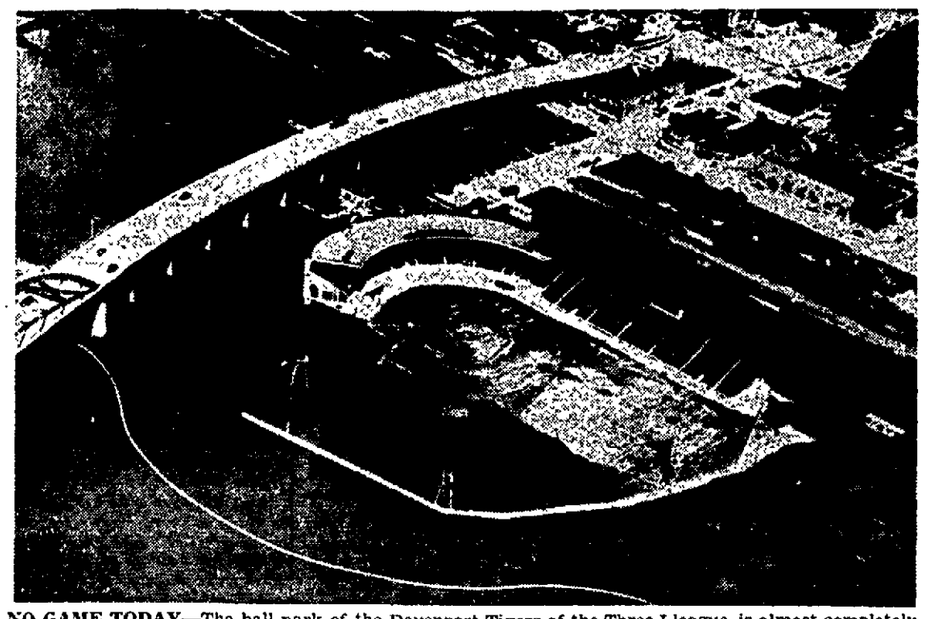

Ray George Given Coaching Position

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (AP)—Ray George, who went out with the gang in the coaching shake-up at Southern California last winter, stepped in today as head man of a ready-made football team—Texas A. and M.

Only mildly mentioned as likely to get the job here, the big ex-line star and ex-line coach of the Trojans last night was appointed to the post vacated March 19 by Harry Stiteler.

George played professional football with Detroit and the Philadelphia Eagles before coaching Porterville, Calif., high school to an undefeated season in 1941. He was a naval officer in World War II, serving in the Saipan-Guam campaign, and played football with Iowa and St. Mary's pre-flight teams.

NO GAME SCHEDULED

NO GAME TODAY—The ball park of the Davenport Tigers of the Three I league, is almost completely covered by the waters of the flooding Mississippi river. Fortunately the Tigers were not scheduled to play in their park for this occasion.

ABC Scoring Pace Highest Since War

ST. PAUL, (AP)—The American Bowling Congress tournament appears to be developing into the scoringest one since the war.

There were shakeups in wholesale fashion in yesterday's shooting. Bowlers from St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago, and Madison, Wis., swept into the top 10 in three divisions in the regular events and booster teams moved into first and second place in that class.

ABC officials expect some more high shooting tomorrow when two top Chicago teams, Joe Wilman's Tri-Par Radio team and the Nordic Hills Country club, start firing.

Undertakers Cause Stir

The Hermann Undertaker bowlers of St. Louis caused the biggest stir yesterday. Ray Jung shot 701 to take over second in the singles; teammates Tom Hennessey and Don Carter rolled into fifth in the doubles with 1,304 and Jung and Hennessey climbed into the select group in the all-events, tied for eighth with 1,911 each.

Taking over third place in the doubles were John Skorich and George Talbert of Cleveland with 1,308. Frank Wiley and Fred Mattson of Billings, Mont., copped seventh place with 1,290 and Ed and Earls Brosius, brothers of Chicago, posted 1,285 good for a ninth place tie.

Ed Brosius gained second place in the all-events with 1,956 and brother Earl climbed into fourth with 1,919. Larry Stelter of Madison, Wis., hit 1,913 to pull into seventh place.

Fireworks Late

Some of the best fireworks came on the final shift which ended early this morning.

A booster team, the Meisenholder Motors of Vermillion, S. D., hit 2,827 to take over the lead in that division. Nick Alpin rolled an even 700 series in his first ABC tourney. Alpin, a bowling alley operator, has a 185 average.

On an earlier shift, the Club Debonair of Lemars, Iowa, had rolled 2,799 to take the top spot in the booster division. But the lead lasted only two hours.

Pawpaw Nips Steward by 11-10 Count

PAWPAW—Charging from behind after trailing 8 to 1 early in the game, Coach Bill Groves' Pawpaw baseball team nipped Steward, 11-10 here Monday afternoon.

Pawpaw could get to Steward's highly-rated Vernon Redrour for only six hits, but seven Steward errors helped bring the win to Elling Johnson.

Pawpaw scored six runs in the third inning and then came back to count three more in the fourth before scoring what proved to be the winning run in the fifth frame.

On Friday Earlville comes to Pawpaw for a game.

Dixon to See Girls' Baseball Teams May 18

The Rockford Peaches and the Peoria Red Wings, two top girls baseball teams, will play in Dixon Friday night, May 18.

This exhibition game was announced today by the Reynolds Field activities committee, sponsors of the contest.

The Peaches have appeared in Dixon before and were well received, according to Armand Riopelle, who announced their return.

Both teams are members of the All-America Girls Baseball league. Further details of the Dixon game were not available today, but will be told in future issues of The Telegraph.

Floods Apparently Will Not Stop Fulton Relays

Flood conditions along the Mississippi apparently will not stop the Fulton Relays, scheduled for tonight in Fulton.

That was the word this morning from Eddie Gebhart, Oregon track coach, who expects to take his squad to Fulton. Mt. Morris and Polo also will make the trip.

This meet annually draws track teams from the smaller high schools in Illinois and Iowa and has produced some excellent performances in the past.

Pafko Idolizes DiMaggio, But Cub Fans Prefer Pafko

CHICAGO—(AP)—For a guy who aspires to be "only half the player Joe DiMaggio is," Outfielder Andy Pafko of the Chicago Cubs is proving a full-fledged National league DiMag, and then some.

The Cubs hiked Andy's salary to something slightly above $30,000 this year. And Pafko has played since the season opened as though he had to convince owner Phil Wrigley and the government he deserved the pay boost.

The Cubs have told Andy they will appeal for his exemption from the government ruling which fixes a club's maximum salary at the top paid last year.

Got Clincher Monday

All Pafko has done in the first five games of the season is drive across nine runs, including the clincher in yesterday's 2-1 Cub win over the Pirates.

His payoff double scoring Hal Jeffcoat from second in the ninth inning was Andy's fifth extra-base blow. Of the eight hits he has collected in 20 trips for a .400 average, three were homers and one a triple.

Pafko didn't hit his third homer last year until May 5. Like Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, Andy usually starts slow in beating a tattoo on bleacher fences with that long ball. He can't explain his ball-of-fire start this year.

Just Lucky, He Says

"Just lucky, I guess," grins the 30-year-old centerfielder from Boyceville, Wis. "I'm meeting the ball well. All I hope is that I can do as well as last year (when Andy batted .304, hit 36 homers to finish second in the league to Kiner's 47, and drove in 92 runs).

"I notice one thing, though. Ever since I started using a Del Ennis model bat two seasons ago, I seemed to get a better piece of the ball." The Enis bat weighs 35 ounces, several more than Andy's former bat, and has a fatter business end than most.

Pafko, starting his eighth full ball season with the Cubs with a major league lifetime mark of .295, has played brilliantly afield in the still infant season. One of his catches in the Cincinnati series last week was achieved by climbing halfway up the left center wall at Wrigley Field.

DiMag His Idol

Pafko says Joe DiMaggio has been his idol ever since he started playing ball. "I never really got to see him close until this year in spring training out West," said Andy. "What co-ordination that man has. What a ball player. They say he has slowed up. I sure would have liked to been around when he was in his prime. If I can be half the player DiMaggio is, that's good enough for me."

Pafko blasted two homers against the Cardinals in St. Louis Sunday and got his first opening day against Ken Raffensberger of the Reds, who is his favorite first-day "cousin." Last year, Pafko stroked two circuit clouts off Raffensberger in the opener at Cincinnati.

14-State Alarm Sent Out for Fugitive Fixer

NEW YORK, (AP)—A fugitive ex-convict, who served a jail sentence for trying to fix a basketball game two years ago, today was being sought in connection with the newest widespread betting scandal.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said a 14-state alarm had been sent out for the arrest of William Rivlin, 45, who was indicted on a bribery charge yesterday along with Jack Goldsmith, former Long Island university star.

Rivlin was sentenced to a year in prison in 1949 after pleading guilty to a conspiracy charge.

He was arrested after a vain attempt to fix a Madison Square Garden game Jan. 4, 1949, between George Washington and Manhattan. This was the game in which David Shapiro, George Washington's co-captain, tipped police that he had been approached with a proposition and then cooperated with authorities in making the arrests.

Dodger Mound Corps Shines In Relief

Palica, King Help Bums Win 16-Inning Affair From Braves

By The Associated Press

Meet King, Palica, Branca and Newcombe. Not a Brooklyn law firm but the Dodger's answer to Jim Konstanty.

As brilliant as Konstanty was last year when he helped Philadelphia win the pennant as the league's most valuable player, his rescue work never matched the sensational relief pitching of this quartet.

The season is only a week old, but the four already have been credited with three relief victories. Better yet, they have pitched 13 innings all told (excluding Newcombe's rout-going effort against the New York Giants), without surrendering a run. They have yielded only three safeties.

Dressen Chortles

No wonder Manager Chuck Dressen is chortling with glee as his charges sit comfortably on top of the National league standings with five victories in six starts.

Erv Palica and Clyde King hurled 4⅔ innings of excellent relief ball yesterday as the Dodgers outlasted Boston's Braves, 2-1, in a 16-inning marathon on a clutch run-scoring single by Carl Furillo. Palica rescued starter Joe Hatten, getting the side out after Hatten had walked the first two batters to face him.

The triumph maintained the Dodgers' half-game lead over the Chicago Cubs, who nipped Pittsburgh, 2-1, on a ninth inning double by Andy Pafko that scored Hal Jeffcoat.

Giants Lose Again

The Phils handed the Giants their fifth successive defeat with an 8-4 victory under the Philadelphia lights to gain their first triumph over Jim Hearn since he came up to the majors in 1947. The righthander had whipped the Phils nine times. Rookie Jocko Thompson held the Giants to six hits.

Vic Raschi pitched the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory over his Philadelphia "cousins" for his second success of the season—his 17th lifetime win in 19 decisions with the Athletics. Vic Wertz' ninth inning home run with two mates on base gave the Tigers a 7-4 triumph over the St. Louis Browns in the only other American league game. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Cards Shade Reds

In another after-dark clash, the Cardinals shaded the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1, in St. Louis. Veteran Harry Brecheen scattered eight hits to beat Ken Raffensberger, an old Redbird nemesis. Shortstop Solly Hemus accounted for both St. Louis runs with a single and triple.

The flawless firemen roles of Palica and King for Brooklyn followed on the heels of a hitless and runless three-inning stint by Don Newcombe and a shorter one of an inning and a third by Palica on Sunday.

Ralph Branca duplicated Newcombe's performance, also at the expense of the Giants, on Saturday. In last Tuesday's opener against the Phils, it was King who came through with a two-inning effort in which he allowed no runs and only one hit in a losing cause. Brooklyn pitchers needed no relief in the other two games.

Run Was Unearned

Furillo's winning hit came with two out, scoring Billy Cox, who had singled, reached second on a sacrifice and third on Gene Mauch's bobble of Eddie Miksis's grounder. The run was unearned.

Rookie Mickey Mantle and little Phil Rizzuto led the Yankees' 13-hit attack on loser Lou Brissie and Hank Wyse. Mantle collected three singles and Rizzuto drove in two runs with a pair of one-baggers.

Held to one homer in five previous games, Detroit clubbed three yesterday to beat the Browns. Besides Wertz' ninth inning game-winner, Joe Ginsberg and Pat Mullin also hit home runs.

Richie Ashburn and Granny Hamner whacked five hits between them to lead the Phils' 13-hit attack against the Giants. Loose fielding by the Giants paved the way for Hearns' downfall. In addition to errors by Monte Irvin and Wes Westrum, Clint Hartung misplayed two fly balls into a double and triple, and Eddie Stanky and Irvin were guilty of poor play in the field.

Amboy Horseman Has Aurora Win

R. P. Lennihan of Amboy scored with a winner on the opening night of the Aurora Downs harness racing season Monday night when his Brook Trout won the third race.

Driven by Ray Wagner, Brook Trout paid a fancy $15.40 for each $2 win ticket.

HUGH'S VIEWS of SPORTS

BY HUGH HOUGH

Wrestling, once a respected sport, now a meal-ticket for physical freaks, offers a new threat to American home life these days.

FOR MANY MONTHS, in cities outside the metropolitan areas where the TV cameras roam, husbands were spared the agony of escorting their wives to see the brutes in the flesh. Hubby could curl up with a good mystery thriller on the sofa while the Mrs. exclaimed at the injustices being perpetrated on the video screen.

MIGHTY FRITZ
". . . in a bout that should prove a thriller."

All that is changed now. Wrestling promoters, notorious for their ability to sight the fast buck that even sharp-eyed boxing promoters might fail to see, now seek to defraud you and me—if we give them half a chance.

YES, WRESTLING is invading Sterling and DeKalb and other cities of like size on the nights when the gross grapplers have no TV commitments. Sterling entertains the midget variety Thursday night. DeKalb paid good money to see the king-sized goons last Friday. Dixon could be next.

Our statutes protect the unsuspecting citizen from many underhanded money-making schemes. Things are getting tougher all the time for salesmen peddling fictitious stock in non-existence gold mines and oil wells. But the wrestlers continue to fleece the unwary of perfectly good American greenbacks while the benevolent law smiles on.

IN VIEW OF THE LENIENCY with which the lawmakers regard these two-fall shill games, we feel it is our duty to warn the good citizens of this encroaching menace. We are thinking of forming our own little Kefauver committee of one to save Dixon from a fate worse than handbooks. But assistance from the strong-hearted males may be necessary. For there is something inherently weak in the female makeup which causes the gals to take this wrestling stuff seriously.

Perhaps the heating of chests and display of fangs so familiar to TV addicts satisfies some yearning in the female breast for the savage male of the storied past. The little woman glances from the virile giants of the TV screen to her mild husband who wants nothing more than his pipe, slippers and the whole davenport after dinner. Can she be blamed for sighing

BUT MEN, WE CANNOT, we shall not weaken. The plague already has visited DeKalb. Sterling is next.

Let's not let it happen here.

* * * *

IF DESPITE THE above warning there remains a depraved few who must have their wrestling, come Mighty Atlas or high water, we print the following dispatch from Capt. Harry Kidd, Sterling Gazette sports editor.

ON THE RARE OCCASIONS WHEN we don't throw such things in the wastebasket, we usually at least edit out the adjectives. But not today, dear reader. You will have to suffer along with us, thusly:

STERLING—Those famous wrestling midgets will be featured in the Sterling coliseum ring on Thursday night, April 26, at 8:30 p. m.

The Mighty Fritz and Irish Jackie meet in a bout that should prove a thriller.

Walter Palmer, former heavyweight champion wrestler meets The Mighty Atlas, and Zack Malkov meets Danny Ferrazza in the opener.

The ticket office and doors open at 7 p. m.

Dixon Netmen Sweep Singles In 8-1 Victory

Winners to Visit Tough Freeport In Meet Wednesday

Sterling served as the third straight victim for Dixon high school's tennis team Monday afternoon. Dixon swamped the visitors, 8-1.

For the Dukes, the victory came almost too easily. On Wednesday they expect to find the going tougher when they invade Freeport for a meet with the tough Pretzels.

Singles Players Win

All six Dixon singles players defeated their Sterling opponents in straight sets. Floyd Acker, the Dukes' No. 1 player, and Dick Joslyn, each took 12 singles games without a loss.

In an act of mercy, Coach Paul Hamersmith held his first five players—Acker, Al Newcomer, Joslyn, Jim Boedecker and John Kurzrock—out of doubles play. But the outcome wasn't much different.

The Dukes still won two out of three matches. John Weitzel and Dick Crawford paired up for one doubles win and John Heindel and Ray Bush accounted for the other.

One Loss Suffered

The lone Dixon loss of the day was suffered by doubles partners Dave Heindel and Dick Gordon, who bowed to Sterling's Lester Weinstine and Ron Newell, 6-1, 6-2.

Freeport, the Dukes' opponent on Wednesday, has most of its squad from last year back. Last season the Dukes split with the Pretzels in two meetings. Freeport gave a convincing display of its power Monday, defeating East Rockford, 5-2. The Pretzels are defending Big Eight champions.

SINGLES RESULTS

Acker (D) defeated Stewart (S), 6-0, 6-0.
Newcomer (D) defeated Balther (S), 6-3, 6-1.
Joslyn (D) defeated Flynn (S), 6-0, 6-0.
Boedecker (D) defeated Scott (S), 6-2, 6-4.
Kurzrock (D) defeated Diamond (S), 6-4, 6-0.
Crawford (D) defeated Sunday (S), 6-2, 6-1.

DOUBLES RESULTS

Crawford-Weitzel (D) defeated Allen-Smith (S), 6-0, 6-0.
J. Heindel-Bush (D) defeated Persona-Primodt (S), 6-2, 6-1.
Weinstine-Newell (S) defeated D. Heindel-Gordon (D), 6-1, 6-2.

Cubs Continue To Roll; Lown Hurls Today

CHICAGO, (AP)—Rookie Omar (Turk) Lown, obtained by the Cubs last fall for the $10,000 waiver price, will try to give Manager Frankie Frisch's hot-starting outfit its fifth victory in six games today.

Lown will face Vernon Law in the final of a two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates in Wrigley field. Frank Hiller, the ex-New York Yankees, notched his second win of the season yesterday in twirling the Cubs to a 2-1 verdict over the Bucs before a ladies day crowd of 13,004.

The Pirates nicked Hiller for eight scattered blows while veteran Mel Queen held the Cubs to five. Bill Serena homered in the fifth inning to shove the Cubs into a 1-1 tie. Then Andy Pafko sewed up the game in the ninth with a double.

Pafko's clout brought home Hal Jeffcoat who was running for singling Hank Sauer.

The rampaging White Sox, who, like the Cubs, have a 4-1 mark, were idle yesterday but get back to business today at Cleveland. Tomorrow the Comiskeys will return to Chicago for a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns. Single games originally were slated tomorrow and Thursday, but the latter game was moved up to clear the way for Chicago's General MacArthur celebration.

Bobby Cain will make his 1951 pitching debut for the Sox today against the Tribe's Bob Feller.

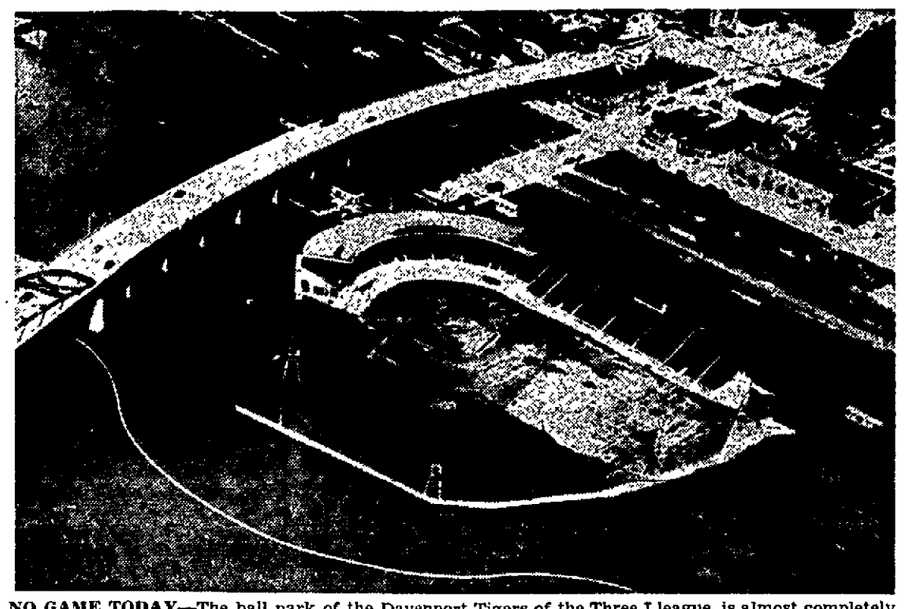

Ray George Given Coaching Position

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (AP)—Ray George, who went out with the gang in the coaching shake-up at Southern California last winter, stepped in today as head man of a ready-made football team—Texas A. and M.

Only mildly mentioned as likely to get the job here, the big ex-line star and ex-line coach of the Trojans last night was appointed to the post vacated March 19 by Harry Stiteler.

George played professional football with Detroit and the Philadelphia Eagles before coaching Porterville, Calif., high school to an undefeated season in 1941. He was a naval officer in World War II, serving in the Saipan-Guam campaign, and played football with Iowa and St. Mary's pre-flight teams.

NO GAME SCHEDULED

NO GAME TODAY—The ball park of the Davenport Tigers of the Three I league, is almost completely covered by the waters of the flooding Mississippi river. Fortunately the Tigers were not scheduled to play in their park for this occasion.

ABC Scoring Pace Highest Since War

ST. PAUL, (AP)—The American Bowling Congress tournament appears to be developing into the scoringest one since the war.

There were shakeups in wholesale fashion in yesterday's shooting. Bowlers from St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago, and Madison, Wis., swept into the top 10 in three divisions in the regular events and booster teams moved into first and second place in that class.

ABC officials expect some more high shooting tomorrow when two top Chicago teams, Joe Wilman's Tri-Par Radio team and the Nordic Hills Country club, start firing.

Undertakers Cause Stir

The Hermann Undertaker bowlers of St. Louis caused the biggest stir yesterday. Ray Jung shot 701 to take over second in the singles; teammates Tom Hennessey and Don Carter rolled into fifth in the doubles with 1,304 and Jung and Hennessey climbed into the select group in the all-events, tied for eighth with 1,911 each.

Taking over third place in the doubles were John Skorich and George Talbert of Cleveland with 1,308. Frank Wiley and Fred Mattson of Billings, Mont., copped seventh place with 1,290 and Ed and Earls Brosius, brothers of Chicago, posted 1,285 good for a ninth place tie.

Ed Brosius gained second place in the all-events with 1,956 and brother Earl climbed into fourth with 1,919. Larry Stelter of Madison, Wis., hit 1,913 to pull into seventh place.

Fireworks Late

Some of the best fireworks came on the final shift which ended early this morning.

A booster team, the Meisenholder Motors of Vermillion, S. D., hit 2,827 to take over the lead in that division. Nick Alpin rolled an even 700 series in his first ABC tourney. Alpin, a bowling alley operator, has a 185 average.

On an earlier shift, the Club Debonair of Lemars, Iowa, had rolled 2,799 to take the top spot in the booster division. But the lead lasted only two hours.

Pawpaw Nips Steward by 11-10 Count

PAWPAW—Charging from behind after trailing 8 to 1 early in the game, Coach Bill Groves' Pawpaw baseball team nipped Steward, 11-10 here Monday afternoon.

Pawpaw could get to Steward's highly-rated Vernon Rednour for only six hits, but seven Steward errors helped bring the win to Elling Johnson.

Pawpaw scored six runs in the third inning and then came back to count three more in the fourth before scoring what proved to be the winning run in the fifth frame.

On Friday Earlville comes to Pawpaw for a game.

Pafko Idolizes DiMaggio, But Cub Fans Prefer Pafko

CHICAGO—(AP)—For a guy who aspires to be "only half the player Joe DiMaggio is," Outfielder Andy Pafko of the Chicago Cubs is proving a full-fledged National league DiMag, and then some.

The Cubs hiked Andy's salary to something slightly above $30,000 this year. And Pafko has played since the season opened as though he had to convince owner Phil Wrigley and the government he deserved the pay boost.

The Cubs have told Andy they will appeal for his exemption from the government ruling which fixes a club's maximum salary at the top paid last year.

Got Clincher Monday

All Pafko has done in the first five games of the season is drive across nine runs, including the clincher in yesterday's 2-1 Cub win over the Pirates.

His payoff double scoring Hal Jeffcoat from second in the ninth inning was Andy's fifth extra-base blow. Of the eight hits he has collected in 20 trips for a .400 average, three were homers and one a triple.

Pafko didn't hit his third homer last year until May 5. Like Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, Andy usually starts slow in beating a tattoo on bleacher fences with that long ball. He can't explain his ball-of-fire start this year.

Just Lucky, He Says

"Just lucky, I guess," grins the 30-year-old centerfielder from Boyceville, Wis. "I'm meeting the ball well. All I hope is that I can do as well as last year (when Andy batted .304, hit 36 homers to finish second in the league to Kiner's 47, and drove in 92 runs).

"I notice one thing, though. Ever since I started using a Del Ennis model bat two seasons ago, I seemed to get a better piece of the ball." The Enis bat weighs 35 ounces, several more than Andy's former bat, and has a fatter business end than most.

Pafko, starting his eighth full ball season with the Cubs with a major league lifetime mark of .295, has played brilliantly afield in the still infant season. One of his catches in the Cincinnati series last week was achieved by climbing halfway up the left center wall at Wrigley Field.

DiMag His Idol

Pafko says Joe DiMaggio has been his idol ever since he started playing ball. "I never really got to see him close until this year in spring training out West," said Andy. "What co-ordination that man has. What a ball player. They say he has slowed up. I sure would have liked to been around when he was in his prime. If I can be half the player DiMaggio is, that's good enough for me."

Pafko blasted two homers against the Cardinals in St. Louis Sunday and got his first opening day against Ken Raffensberger of the Reds, who is his favorite first-day "cousin." Last year, Pafko stroked two circuit clouts off Raffensberger in the opener at Cincinnati.

Dixon to See Girls' Baseball Teams May 18

The Rockford Peaches and the Peoria Red Wings, two top girls baseball teams, will play in Dixon Friday night, May 18.

This exhibition game was announced today by the Reynolds Field activities committee, sponsors of the contest.

The Peaches have appeared in Dixon before and were well received, according to Armand Riopelle, who announced their return.

Both teams are members of the All-America Girls Baseball league. Further details of the Dixon game were not available today, but will be told in future issues of The Telegraph.

Floods Apparently Will Not Stop Fulton Relays

Flood conditions along the Mississippi apparently will not stop the Fulton Relays, scheduled for tonight in Fulton.

That was the word this morning from Eddie Gebhart, Oregon track coach, who expects to take his squad to Fulton. Mt. Morris and Polo also will make the trip.

This meet annually draws track teams from the smaller high schools in Illinois and Iowa and has produced some excellent performances in the past.

FIGHTS

TRONTO—Solly Cantor, 136, Toronto, and Dave Shade, 134, Charleston, W. Va., drew (8).

CHICAGO—Joe Garza, 152, Detroit, outpointed Jesse Bradshaw, 151, Toledo (8).

14-State Alarm Sent Out for Fugitive Fixer

NEW YORK, (AP)—A fugitive ex-convict, who served a jail sentence for trying to fix a basketball game two years ago, today was being sought in connection with the newest widespread betting scandal.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said a 14-state alarm had been sent out for the arrest of William Rivlin, 45, who was indicted on a bribery charge yesterday along with Jack Goldsmith, former Long Island university star.

Rivlin was sentenced to a year in prison in 1949 after pleading guilty to a conspiracy charge.

He was arrested after a vain attempt to fix a Madison Square Garden game Jan. 4, 1949, between George Washington and Manhattan. This was the game in which David Shapiro, George Washington's co-captain, tipped police that he had been approached with a proposition and then cooperated wtih authorities in making the arrests.

CITATION, RACE SCRATCHED

PITCHING—HARRY BRECHEEN, Cardinals—Spaced eight hits as St. Louis shaded the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1, to beat an old Redbird nemesis, Kenny Raffensberger.

Dividend Payments Flow at All-Time U. S. Record Pace

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, (AP)—Dividend payments are flowing out in all-time record volume to the millions of Americans who hold common stocks.

Business has been so good that the stockholder, who a few years ago considered himself the forgotten man, is at last reaping his reward.

Higher taxes and the swing to a half-war industrial basis haven't stopped the golden flow this year. The total of dividend payments, which set a new high last year, has gone on to new heights in the first three months of this year.

Some Have Cut

Not all industries share. Some have even cut payments, compared with the first quarter of last year. And within industries, some companies are better favored than others.

But in most companies, in most industries, soaring sales volumes have pulled earnings to peak levels.

So far this year, companies with common stocks listed on the New York stock exchange have declared dividends totalling nearly $1.2 billion, the exchange magazine reports today. This is 15 5 per cent more than was paid in the first three months of 1950.

Dividends were paid this year by 801 of the 1,042 issues listed on the big board. Of those paying, 358 increased the dividend, 287 paid the same amount and only 86 cut payments.

List Lower Brackets

Looking at classifications by industries, (not by individual companies) those whose dividend payments are lower this year than in the first quarter of last year are. Amusement, electrical equipment, financial, shipbuilding and operating aircraft, food products and beverages, office equipment, farm machinery, leather, and retail trade.

Greatest advances percentagewise, for industries as a whole, are shown by: Mining, textile, automotive, oil and natural gas, steel and iron, paper and publishing, building and chemical.

Eight other industry divisions also advanced dividends, as a whole: Machinery and metals, railroads and rail equipment, real estate, rubber, utilities, foreign companies, U. S. companies operating abroad, and tobacco.

The Generous Kind

Some of the giant individual corporations that were generous last year in passing along profits to stockholders: Du Pont, which paid out $240.7 million, or 78 3 per cent of its net income of $307.6 million; American Tel. & Tel., which paid out $248.2 million, or 69.2 per cent of its net income of $358.8 million; Chrysler, which paid out $81.8 million, or 66.3 per cent of its net income of $127.8 million; General Motors, which paid out $526 million, or 65.1 per cent of its net income of $834 million; and Standard Oil (New Jersey) which paid $151 million, or 37 per cent of its $408 million net income.

Bigamist's Wives

LONDON, (AP)—Three women rushed up and kissed George Clements today when he was placed on probation on a charge of bigamy.

They were:

His legal wife, whom he married in 1920 and who has bore him nine children.

A woman he lived with long enough to have his tenth child.

His bigamous wife, who recently had his eleventh and twelfth—a set of twins.

Clements pleaded guilty to the charge. He is 52.

CLEAN REGULARLY

Regular oiling and cleaning will insure a longer life for your farm electrical equipment, say University of Illinois agricultural engineers.

Four-wheel brakes now stop a car in half the distance required at the time they first came into general use.

IT'S SO NICE TO BE THE MAN AROUND THE HOUSE?—It has some disadvantages, living with seven pretty women, thinks Bill Phipps of Los Angeles (fifth from left in line for the bathroom). Bill and a dog named Cyrano (second from left) share a rooming house with the seven gals and it's all perfectly okay, since a housemother takes care of the whole brood. The seven ladies in the bathroom line are: Lucille Dellano, Janet Stewart, Frances Conley, Diana Marievsky, Maxine Cross, Virginia and Carol Price.

WEST IS BEST—A German housewife buys a loaf of bread marked "West" in a West Berlin delicatessen. Berlin civil authorities recently voted to require such marking in order to cut down the smuggling of cheaper Eastern sector bread into Allied zones. The Communists have used the cheaper bread as a lure for West Berliners to cross the sector dividing line. (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Dietrich Giesecke.)

Extend Fund Campaign of Red Cross, Demands Exceed Budget

WASHINGTON—In the face of extraordinary need for services to the rapidly expanding armed forces, the American Red Cross board of governors today called upon the 3,740 Red Cross chapters to continue their current fund campaigns until all local goals are met.

The national fund today reached 76 9 per cent of its $85,000,000 goal.

In a resolution extending the drive the board said "heavy immediate and continuing demands" were placed on the Red Cross by continuation of the conflict in Korea, by the decision to send additional United States troops to Europe, and by the greatly increased military requirements for Red Cross blood.

These demands already have required the organization to appropriate $5,000,000 more than provided for in the current year's budget.

Goal Not Sufficient

Defense Secretary George C. Marshall, former Red Cross president who attended the board meeting, pointed out that the current campaign goal for next year's operations was arrived at last November on the basis of anticipated services to an armed force of 2,500,000.

"But the $85,000,000 goal does not include sufficient funds to discharge properly Red Cross responsibilities to the presently authorized military force of about 3,500,000 men. These new extraordinary demands must be met," General Marshall said.

Emergency Appropriation

Indicative of the far greater scope of Red Cross service required, E Roland Harriman, president, reported to the board that an emergency appropriation of $4,000,000 made in November, 1950, to supplement the current year's budget already was exhausted. The board approved an additional emergency allotment of $1,000,000.

"The sums needed for future operations are much greater than anything we could anticipate at the time we prepared the budget for 1951-52. We are faced with stark reality," Harriman stated.

In reporting the progress of the campaign, Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff pledged his continued efforts as national fund chairman. He urged "unusual and strenuous efforts by every Red Cross chapter in the United States to achieve its individual goal.

GONE DOG—When the word went out on the U. S. minesweeper Mainstay for all hands to "lay down to the sick bay for shots," little Chisai, a Japanese-born pup, showed up, too. So Seaman James Thomas of Cleburne, Tex., held the pup, while Hospitalman 1cl. Gerald "Doc" Magle of Preston, Minn., prepared to do his dirty work. The scene is somewhere off the Korean coast. (U. S. Navy photo from NEA-Acme.)

Gravel Diggers Unearth Skeleton

MISSOULA, Mont., (AP)—Discovery of what may prove to be a complete mastodon skeleton has been announced by Montana State university scientists. They credited Ray and Clint Kallestad, who operate the Kallestad Sand and Gravel Co., with uncovering the huge prehistoric relative of the elephant.

Dr. Kenneth P. McLaughlin and Dr. Fred S Honkala of the university geology department said the animal, which roamed the area somewhere between 25,000 and 50,000 years ago, possibly stood about 16 feet high. One tusk measures at least five feet long.

While ninety per cent of those who develop cancer are over forty, this disease ranks second throughout the country as a cause of death among schol children under fifteen. Only accidents come first. Cancer—says the American Cancer Society—is a major problem and deserves major support.

Oregon War II Mothers Meet On Wednesday

OREGON — Mothers of World War II will meet Wednesday for an all-day sewing session with Mrs. Owen Myers.

School Open House

The Oregon elementary school will hold open house Sunday, April 29, from 2 to 5 p.m. Everyone is invited to see the new addition and the remodeled portion. Each room will display some of the work that they have finished this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hayenga entertained 50 relatives in honor of the birthday of her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Flynn, Sunday. Mrs. Flynn's two nieces, Mrs. Edward Seabold and Mrs. Jeanette Claussen, poured and her nephew, James Brass, led in prayer. The birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Paul Hayenga. Mrs. James Brass was cohostess.

Back Home

Mrs. W. P. Fearer arrived home last week from Biloxi, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haring arrived home Thursday from Fort Myers, Fla.

Oriental Plea to U. N. Is Flowery

LAKE SUCCESS, (AP)—Flowery Oriental phrasing is not uncommon in petitions to the United Nations Trusteeship Council. One of the most flowery recently arrived from an assistant clerk in civil service, jailed in the French Cameroons. It was addressed to U. N. Assistant Secretary-General Victor Hoo and was headed "Last Cry for Help."

"O, powerful Secretary and Glorious Savior and Mediator of Oppressed Wretches, here at your feet is a distressed unfortunate who, being in need of urgent help, appeals to you as the last resort with the sweet hope of being heard."

Then it went on for 300 words to detail how many times he was beaten by police and how the alleged plot against him developed. The man accused his enemies of using a form of hypnotism on others "to destroy me on my own land." The council promised to investigate.

Natural gas seeps in Iran provided fuel for flames which were guarded by Zoroaster's fire-worshipers in ancient times.

HE GIVES HER PAWS—Tilly, four-footed comedienne, joins hands (or is it paws?) with film actress Joyce Holden to call attention to "Be Kind to Animals Week," May 6 to 12. Joyce had just been named "Pet Girl" by the American Humane Association.

Average American Woman Has More Nylons Than a Queen

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Queen Elizabeth of England, I am told, adores nylon lingerie.

But under Britain's long austerity program, even a queen cannot indulge in fripperies. So Queen Elizabeth has never been able to satisfy this typically feminine whim—and wouldn't, even if she could. For England's queen does not believe in granting herself special dispensations.

In this respect, as in many others, any American shopgirl enjoys privileges and luxuries denied to the Queen of England under today's grim regime.

Shortage Not Developed

The expected shortage of nylon has not developed thus far, and it looks now as if there would be plenty for everybody for some time to come.

Women who rushed out at the start of the Korean war to stock up on nylon stockings and lingerie are feeling a little foolish at present, when every store is displaying ample supplies.

Members of the American Lingerie Association say that current production of sheer, quick-drying undies is sufficient to meet expected consumer demand this summer, an it is hoped that supplies will remain adequate.

Girdle Front Okay

No repetition of the shortages and black market operations of World War II is anticipated, even if the cold war turns hot.

The same situation holds true in the U. S. girdle front.

All these are things most of us take for granted.

But if we lived in Britain today, such things as a plentiful choice of food and clothing would be undreamed-of luxuries.

It is hard for us to realize, in our still bountiful America, that the English housewife can purchase only nine cents worth of meat per week for each member of her family. This amounts to a four-ounce piece of steak or six ounces of the cheapest stewing meat.

To a nation renowned as beef-eaters, this has been the hardest blow of the austerity program.

Diet Craze

U. S. housewives may not realize that an 11-year-old child in Britain does not know what it means to live without rationing.

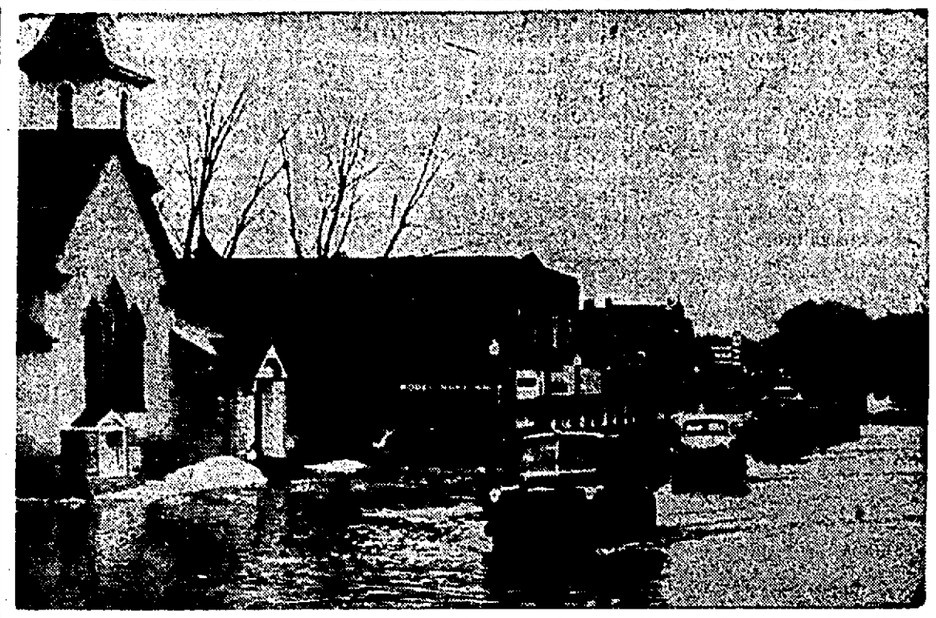

Just to prove that vanity still is alive, even in a ration-ridden nation, a diet craze is sweeping England. Because of the high starch content of Britain's food (bread and potatoes are among the few foods unrationed) British women are growing stouter, the average hip size having increased from 38 to 40 inches in the last few years.

So, even if the price of meat is high, you can be glad you live in the U.S.A., where all you need is money to buy all the sirloin and nylons your heart desires.

POOR QUALITY HAY

Two Greene county dairymen report that their milk production dropped 27 per cent when they changed to poor quality mixed hay.

—A complete history of Dixon and surrounding area will be presented in The Evening Telegraphs' 270-page Centennial edition which will reach subscribers on May 1.

RESIDENTS LEAVE FLOODED CITY—A long line of trucks move through flooded streets of Mankato, Minn., carrying household goods of residents who are evacuating the city. Flood waters have reached a level of 24 feet, which is six feet above flood level.

Labor Governemnt Showdown In Britain May End Socialism

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The resignation of Aneurin Bevan, Britain's fiery left-wing minister of labor, has precipitated a political crisis which may have far-reaching consequences.

This dramatic move might easily result in the downfall of Prime Mniister Atlee's Socialist government and the return of the Conservative party to power under leadership of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill. However, I believe Bevan's project cuts a good deal deeper than that.

Capture Labor Party

Bevan's long range aim would seem to be to capture control of the Labor (Socialist) party which, under the moderate leadership of Attlee, has represented a rather conservative type of Socialism. Bevan would swing the party further left.

Here it should be emphasized that, in speaking of a swing to the left, one refers to a more extreme Socialism. Communism is not an issue in England, although it has its followers.

In explaining his resignation Bevan declared he quit because Britain has been "dragged too far behind the wheels of American diplomamy." He is bitterly opposed to America's armament plans and has protested the arms expenditure in Britain's new budget. He declared that the country's three year $13,160,000,000 arms program "cannot be achieved without irreparable damage to the economy of Great Britain and the world."

Objects to Cuts

Bevan objected to cutting free medical services in favor of the rearmament program. He declared that the Socialists should pay for rearming by soaking the rich in taxes, and not deprive the public of the free spectacles and false teeth he instituted as minister of health.

The political crisis was deepened by the resignation of Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, who once was known as the "boy wonder" of the labor cabinet.

The big showdown may mark the beginning of the end of the Attlee government. It certainly may be expected to give a better idea of how far Socialism is to go in England. In that sense, it will clear a rather murky political atmosphere.

After selling HADACOL here in the store, I decided I'd try it. You have no idea how much it has picked me up. IF WE AVOID WAR, IT'LL BE MIRACLE--SEN. DOUGLAS

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois says "It will be almost a miracle" if a third world war is averted because Russia is "determined upon world conquest."

"But if we are plunged into a great world war, it won't be because America was the aggressor," he told 1,200 Democrats at a $25-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson day banquet last night.

"If we go in, we'll go in with clean hands, knowing we have done everything to prevent war except give up our honor," Douglas said. "But remember, we are determined to prevent the police state from taking over the world.

"Now, if war is almost inevitable, why should we not get in the first blow? All over America, people are asking this question," the senator declared.

Cannot Take Initiative

He emphasized that America cannot take the initiative because congress couldn't decide to strike the first blow without telegraphing its intentions to the rest of the world. And the senator said that in his opinion it would be unconstitutional for the president to commit aggression by making the decision himself.

"So we can't take the initiative," he said, "but we should be ready."

Turning to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Sen. Douglas said the general wanted to bomb Manchurian bases and aid Chinese Nationalist forces to invade Red-held China.

Would Take Months

It would take months for Chiang Kai-Shek to prepare for a mainland invasion, the senator declared, "and this wouldn't be of much help now."

The bombing of Manchuria might cause the Communist air force to bomb UN bases in Korea and possibly Japan, he said. "If we thus took the initiative it might bring Russia into the conflict and start world war III," he said, adding that Russia and China have a mutual assistance pact.

"I don't think the American people should condemn President Truman for not wanting to take these heavy risks."

Not Candidate in 1952

At a news conference before the dinner, Douglas said he is not a candidate for the 1952 Democratic presidential nomination.

"I do not regard myself as fitted for the position," he said, "and I have no desire to occupy a little box under the sod for some time."

He said he will support President Truman if the president wishes to run for reelection.

If Truman declines, Douglas listed Gen. Dwight Eisenhower first in a group of candidates the Democrats might consider.

He said he thought the Republican nominee would be either Gen. MacArthur or Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio).

Couldn't Qualify

Douglas, himself an oft-mentioned candidate, told reporters that a presidential nominee must be, first, a unifier and, second, a nonworrier. He claimed he couldn't qualify on either count.

He listed as other Democratic choices besides Eisenhower: Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), and Brien McMahon (D-Conn); Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Illinois, and Gov. Mennen N. Williams, Michigan.

He said "It's not likely that Eisenhower will get the Republican nomination because Sen. Taft will control the decision."

No Smear of Mac

The Illinois senator, who also is a staunch administration supporter, denied the Democrats are attempting to "smear" MacArthur.

"We all respect and admire him for his military and administrative accomplishments," he said. "I myself have just agreed to go on the welcoming committee for his reception in Chicago."

But he upheld the president's right to dismiss the general.

"We have a long history of the military being subservient to the civilian," he said, "and whenever we depart from that we're in trouble."

There's Gold in El Paso - Legend

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—The El Paso chamber of commerce invites you to spend your vacation hunting for buried treasure.

The chamber, well aware of the pulling power of stories of hidden wealth, has revived a legend given much credence in the Southwest. The legend is that agents of Pancho Villa, the Mexican bandit and revolutionary, buried a king's ransom in gold and jewels in the Franklin mountains near here. All the men who buried the treasure were supposed to have been killed and Villa was killed before he recovered the treasure.

"How much of this story is true?" the chamber asks in a widely-distributed news release. "No one knows. But it would be a lot of fun on your vacation to take a crack at Villa's treasure. Who knows? You might strike it rich."

At 99, Ex-Sailor Has Desire to Sail to Europe

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP) — Benjamin F. Brothers onetime seaman who once lifted a 720-pound anchor to win a $2 bet, is 99, and he'd like to take another trip to Europe—in a sailing vessel. Brothers, a former deacon of Calvary Baptist church here, also feels at 99 that he should broaden his religious experience by attending services in a Jewish synagogue. He says he has attended services in the houses of worship of most other faiths.

His sight, hearing and appetite still are good. He has outlived two of three wives and all but two of his eight children, has nine grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. He thinks hard work, moderate living and plenty of sleep are part of the recipe for long life. He says he always has gone to bed by 7:30 or 8 p.m. but arose early, at 5 or before every morning.

Doctors? For 90 years he never went to one. His only medicines in earlier years were those compounded by his mother from bark, herbs and other natural ingredients.

Flying Men Jam Air Base Chapels

SAN ANTONIO, (AP) — The men of the U. S. Air Force are turning to religion. An average of 12,000 airmen now attend the 115 services offered by Lackland Air Force Base chaplains in the ten chapels on the base. There are more than 30 chaplains, representing all faiths.

Sunday services are held from early morning until late evening. Because the chapels won't hold the crowds, two theaters and a large assembly tent are used for religious services.

—Two hundred and seventy pages of words and pictures will tell the Dixon story in The Evening Telegraph's giant Centennial edition to be published May 1. It will rank as the largest single edition ever published in the middlewest and will be free to Telegraph subscribers.

Tagged Shark

SYDNEY, (AP)—A year ago officers of the Government's Scientific and Research Organization caught a shark in St. Helen's Bay, Tasmania, put a tag on it, and let it go again. The idea was to get information about the growth and movement of the shark if it were seen again.

Ten months later scientists did the same thing with 196 flounders. The other day the tagged shark was caught in St. Helen's Bay. Inide it was one of the tagged flounders.
